TO: President Richard McCullough
FROM: Provost James Clark
DATE: August 18, 2022
SUBJECT: Textbook and Instructional Materials Affordability

Request for Approval

State law requires each university to submit an annual report to the Chancellor of the State University System on textbook and instructional materials affordability. Using a template and instructions provided by the Florida Board of Governors, the Provost's Office compiled and analyzed this information.

Per BOG Guidance:

Section 1004.085, Florida Statutes, establishes requirements regarding the textbook and instructional materials adoption process at public colleges and institutions in Florida. The law requires each institution's board of trustees in the State University System to submit an annual report by September 30 of each year, beginning in 2016, to the Chancellor of the State University System. In 2019, Chapter 2019-4, Laws of Florida removed subsections (4) and (8) of section 1004.085, Florida Statutes. Each institution's report is required to address four components.

- The selection process for textbooks and instructional materials for general education courses identified with high enrollments.
- Specific initiatives of each institution designed to reduce the costs of textbooks and instructional materials.
- Institution policies implemented for the posting of textbooks and instructional materials information for students.
- The number of courses and course sections that did not meet the textbook and instructional materials posting deadline in the previous academic year.

The attached report has been compiled in accordance with BOG guidelines. I recommend your approval of the Textbook and Instructional Materials Affordability Report. Consistent with state law, upon review and approval, the report will be submitted to the Chancellor of the State University System.

Textbook & Instructional Materials Affordability Initiatives

Describe specific initiatives of the institution designed to reduce the costs of textbooks and instructional materials.

The University Libraries have implemented an alternative textbook grant program, which has awarded $62,000 in grants to FSU instructors to identify free or low-cost textbooks for forty-one courses. The Libraries estimates that instructors who have participated in the program saved students approximately $520,136 on course materials since the program's inception, including International Program courses. In 21-22 the University Libraries participated in the OpenStax Institutional Partnership. OpenStax, a prominent open textbook publisher, shared savings data of $817,900 this year and cumulative savings using OpenStax books at FSU to about $4,168,900 since 2015. In addition, the University Libraries implemented an eTextbooks Program in which library-licensed materials serve as course adopted textbooks. Instructors and students are able to search by course code, instructor, or book title to determine if required course materials identified by instructors are available online at no cost through the Libraries. Since its implementation, the Libraries have identified 2192 available eTextbooks in 2021 and 2839 available eTextbooks in 2022 (a 29.52% increase). In calculating the total potential savings for FSU students (assuming all possible courses adopted available eTextbook titles for all students), the impact has now exceeded five million dollars. Further, the University Libraries have a course reserve program in which faculty can request that textbook and/or instructional material be placed on reserve for access by students. Course materials available through the course reserve program are searchable by course, instructor, and title through the library catalog. Each academic department is assigned a subject librarian who communicates to faculty about library services, including course reserves. The library website contains information about the Course Reserve program for faculty and students, while students also hear from their instructor about Course Reserves. For the 2021-2022 academic year, the Course Reserve Program at the Libraries included physical reserves and eReserves for 131 courses, 34 of which are permanently on Reserve.

Has the opt-in provision been implemented by your institution for the purchase of student materials? If yes, describe the impact this has had on student savings, if any.

The University implemented the Follett Access Opt-In Program in Fall 2018. The program allows students to "opt in" to purchase materials at a reduced cost from the University Bookstore (Follett). These materials are digitally delivered to students providing advantages in both material accessibility and affordability for participating students. The University Bookstore (Follett) continued implementation of opt-in through Fall 2020. According to the University Bookstore, sixty-five courses participated in opt-in with a participation rate of 67% and a savings of $528,954. Since the program's inception, the University Bookstore estimates that students have saved nearly $1.4 million as a result of the Follett Access Opt-In Program.

Has the opt-out provision been implemented by your institution for the purchase of student materials? If yes, describe the impact this has had on student savings, if any.

In Spring 2021, the university implemented the opt-out provision for the purchase of student materials for select courses (referred to as the "Follett Access Program"). The program is a partnership between Student Business Services and the University Bookstore to enhance student success by delivering required course materials to students on or before the first day of classes at the lowest cost available. To identify participating courses, the University Bookstore collaborates with instructors. Students enrolled in a participating course are automatically enrolled in the Follett Access Program when registering for the course. Both Student Business Services and the University Bookstore provide information to students about accessing course materials through the Follett Access Program as well as instructions to opt-out of the program and relevant deadlines. Additionally, incoming students and their family members are presented with information on how the Follett Access Program works during new student orientation, which is required prior to matriculation. Course materials obtained through the Follett Access Program are charged automatically to student accounts through FSU invoices. If a student drops a course participating in the program, then charges are automatically removed from the invoice. According to the FSU Bookstore, in Fall 2021, ninety-four courses participated in the opt-out program with a participation rate of 92% and total material cost savings of $830,353. In Spring 2022, one hundred seventeen courses participated in the opt-out program with a participation rate of 95% and a total material cost savings of $893,140. In Summer 2022, eighty-four courses participated with a total material cost savings of $296,255. Since the implementation of the Follett Access program in Fall 2018, total savings to date is over $4.1 million.

University Policies for the Posting of Textbooks and Instructional Materials & Compliance with the Posting Deadline

Describe policies implemented to ensure the posting of textbooks and instructional materials for at least 95% of all courses and course sections 45 days before the first day of class.

The Office of the Provost requests that textbook and instructional material information be made available to students through the university's Student Information System by the first date of course registration (e.g., mid-March for Summer and Fall semesters and October for Spring semester), well ahead of the requirement of 45 days prior to the start of the semester. The Provost's Office establishes the deadlines for instructors of record or their designees to assign required and recommended textbooks and instructional material and input identifying information into the Student Information System. Textbook compliance information is posted on the Provost's website and also sent to colleges. Compliance is monitored by the Provost's Office and academic personnel provide regular reports to the Provost to ensure compliance. The Provost's Office also sends follow up emails and status updates regularly to the colleges. Students access the Student Information System through an online web portal using its course look-up feature to make decisions about courses, considering textbook costs, months in advance of the start of the term, and are encouraged to do so by academic personnel and advisors.

Are the policies effective in meeting the reporting requirement? If not, what measures will be taken by the university to increase faculty and staff compliance for meeting the reporting requirement?

The university's policies have been effective in meeting the reporting requirements. In the university's three most recent published operational audits in which textbook and instructional material compliance was included (conducted by the state auditor general), Florida State University had no findings related to compliance with s. 1004.085, Florida Statutes, concerning textbook affordability.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY
OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

TO: President Richard McCullough
FROM: Provost James Clark
DATE: August 18, 2022
SUBJECT: Specialized Admissions Applications

Request for Approval

Limited Access status is the permission granted by the BOG to specific undergraduate degree programs to admit students selectively instead of allowing each student who meets university admission standards to enroll. In late fall of 2021, discussions in the BOG Academic and Student Affairs Committee prompted the BOG staff to propose changing the process in several fundamental ways, including renaming it “Specialized Admissions.”

The most important change in the resulting BOG Regulation 8.013 is that Specialized Admissions permission will be temporary; depending on the rationale under which it is approved, it will last for either four or five years. Universities that want to continue to admit students selectively must reapply or have the status terminated, even in arts and music programs based on high-level student performance. Annual reporting requirements for institutions are also increased.

The criteria for Specialized Admissions recognized by the Regulation are: 1) special skills or talents are necessary for a student to take advantage of the program; 2) student demand for the program exceeds the available resources; and 3) requirements imposed by a program’s accrediting body constrain student enrollment in some manner. The applications for Specialized Admissions presented for your approval were developed with guidance from members of the Provost’s Task Force on Specialized Admissions. The group was appointed to guide the application process in ways that focus on student progression through their degrees, helping mitigate any potential loss of selective admissions by utilizing other strategies to support students’ retention, graduation, and other measures of student success.

All Specialized Admissions applications approved by the Board of Trustees will be submitted to the Board of Governors Office by October 1, 2022. The BOG staff plans to present them in groups for review during regularly-scheduled BOG meetings throughout academic year 2022-23. Approved programs will become Specialized Admissions at the beginning of the 2023-24 academic year, and programs denied Specialized Admissions will have their Limited Access status expire at the end of the 2023-24 academic year.

INTRODUCTION

The Student Conduct Code (further referred to as "Code") emphasizes Florida State University's (further referred to as "University") commitment to a campus community which exercises the responsible engagement of student freedoms. The pursuit of responsible freedom is consistent with the tenets of the Seminole Creed and efforts to promote civility at the University, as students balance their pursuit of excellence and exploration with consideration to the impact of behavior on themselves and others.

The Student Conduct Authority at the University embraces the University's commitment to an educational experience that provides students with an understanding of the complex moral issues inherent in human life and develops the knowledge and skills for effective and responsible participation in the world. The Code reemphasizes the dignity and worth of each person and substantiates the need for an inclusive environment to support the betterment of all persons associated with the University. "The University is a compassionate community. In its treatment of students, it recognizes the wisdom both of letting students experience the consequences of their actions and of providing the opportunity to learn and grow in ways that can overcome past difficulties" (General Bulletin, Florida State University, 2016).

The University fully recognizes and values the right of all students and individuals to seek knowledge, debate ideas, form opinions, and freely express views in accordance with the expectations set forth in this Code. The University supports the principles of free speech and civil discourse outlined in the Board of Governors' "Statement of Free Expression" \("Statement of Free Expression", Florida Board of Governors, 2019\). This right must be exercised in a manner which will not interfere with the same rights and freedoms of others in their enjoyment of the benefits of the programs offered by this University, or their lawful use of University facilities, including ingress and egress (for more information, see the University's Freedom of Expression Rights and Responsibilities regulation). Additional expectations for student organizations are outlined in the Student Organization Conduct Code and other University rules, regulations, and/or policies.

The student conduct process is designed to be educational in nature and promotes the University's mission. Being a member of the University community is a privilege, and the conduct process will determine if a student's conduct warrants modification of or restriction upon that privilege.

I. DEFINITIONS

Terms specific to conduct prohibited by the Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct Policy (FSU Policy 2-2 supplemented by 2-2a relating to Title IX specific requirements, also referenced as Title IX Compliance Policy) are defined in Appendix D of 2-2: Definitions and accessible at <https://regulations.fsu.edu/policies/office-president>

- A. Advisor - ~~The term "advisor" means any~~Any one person, ~~who which may also be an~~ ~~advocate or legal representative~~, chosen by a respondent, complainant, or witness to provide guidance throughout the student conduct process, and ~~who~~ ~~may ask questions of a complainant, respondent, or witness~~ ~~be permitted to participate fully~~ during a disciplinary proceeding. Individuals are highly encouraged to select an advisor with reasonable availability. The advisor, ~~advocate, or legal representative~~ serves at the ~~student's or student organization's individual's~~ own expense and may present at any proceeding, ~~whether formal or informal. Such person. An involved party may permit their advisor to~~ directly participate in all aspects of ~~the~~ proceeding, including the presentation of relevant information and questioning of witnesses.
- B. Allegation - An assertion that someone has engaged in behavior that may be a violation of the Student Conduct Code.
- C. Administrative Measure - Actions taken by the University to address or remedy a behavior separate and apart from a Conduct outcome. Actions include but are not limited to holds on student accounts, No Contact Orders, and additional non conduct University Directives.
- D. Administrative Panel - ~~The term "Administrative Hearing Panel" refers to a~~A group of students in addition to faculty or staff selected and trained by Student Conduct and Community Standards who serve as a hearing body with responsibility for adjudicating student conduct cases. Students shall comprise at least one-half of the membership.
- ~~F. Alternative Resolution - If deemed appropriate by the University, complainants and respondents may agree to forego a student conduct process in favor of reaching a mutually agreed upon resolution. The University adopts the resolution of the Alternative Resolution process in lieu of adjudicating the case, and failure to adhere to the agreed upon resolution by any individual may result in further student conduct action.~~
- G.E. Consent - Consent to sexual activity must be: knowing, intelligent, unambiguous, and voluntary. Consent is active, not passive. This means there must be clear and willing participation, through words or actions, for each sexual act.
- I. Consent to one type of sexual activity does not imply consent to other types of sexual activity. There must be consent at every stage of the sexual encounter
  - II. Past consent to sexual activity does not imply consent to future sexual activity.

Formatted: Indent: Left: 0", Hanging: 0.25", No bullets or numbering

III. Consent can be withdrawn at any time, including in the middle of a sexual encounter, if the withdrawal of consent is clearly indicated by words or actions. Meaning any indication of unwillingness, including but not limited to the following, terminates consent.

- a. Any verbalization of no, stop, don't; I do not want, I am not sure, that hurts, etc.
- b. Ceasing participation in sexual activity (e.g. freezing, or not actively engaging), pulling away, pushing someone away, removing someone's touch from a specific area, blocking someone from touching a specific area, etc.

IV. Individuals who are not of legal age, are incapacitated, or are forced cannot give consent to sex (no matter what they say or do); see definition of incapacitation.

V. Consent cannot be obtained by force. Force includes the use of coercion, intimidation, physical violence, and/or threats.

- a. Coercion. Using an unreasonable amount of pressure, including alcohol or drugs, to have sexual contact with someone. Coercion is more than an effort to persuade, entice, or attract another person to have sexual contact. When a person makes clear a decision not to participate in a particular sexual activity, continued pressure can be coercive. In evaluating whether coercion was used, the University will consider frequency of the application; intensity; duration of the pressure and the degree of isolation imposed upon the individual being pressured.
- b. Intimidation. An implied threat that menaces or causes reasonable fear in another person. A person's size alone does not constitute intimidation; however, it may be a contributing factor (e.g., blocking access to an exit.)
- c. Physical violence. Use of physical violence and/or imposing on someone physically to control and engage in sexual contact or intercourse. Physical violence includes but is not limited to hitting, punching, slapping, kicking, restraining, choking, and brandishing or using any weapon.
- d. Threats. Words or actions that would compel a reasonable person to engage in unwanted sexual activity. Examples include threats to harm a person physically, to reveal private information to harm a person's reputation, or to cause a person academic or economic harm.

H.F. Incapacitation - A state where a person cannot make knowing, intelligent, unambiguous, and voluntary decisions and therefore cannot give consent (e.g. cannot understand the who, what, when, where, why, or how of the sexual interaction). An individual can be incapacitated by voluntary or involuntary use of drugs (legal, illegal, or prescription) or alcohol, illness, mental impairment/disability, or by a state of being asleep or unconscious.

- I. Incapacitation is a state beyond drunkenness or intoxication. The impact of drug and alcohol use varies from person to person. Whether an individual was incapacitated by substance use will be assessed by the totality of the information. Relevant factors include but are not limited to: stumbling or otherwise exhibited loss of equilibrium; slurred speech or word confusion; combativeness or emotional volatility; vomiting; incontinence; being disoriented or confused as to time, place, etc.; and/or loss of consciousness. In matters of accountability/culpability, the University will consider whether a Respondent knew or should have known that the Complainant was incapacitated. However, the use of drugs or alcohol by the person initiating the sexual activity is not an excuse for failing to obtain consent.
- II. Legal age. The legal age of consent in Florida is 18; however, this Policy recognizes exceptions as defined by section 794.05, Florida Statutes. Legal age of consent may differ in various jurisdictions.

It means that the information, as a whole, demonstrates it is more likely than not that the fact sought to be proved is true. ## II. AUTHORITY

- A. Authority for student conduct ultimately rests with the Florida State University Board of Trustees which has delegated such authority to the President of Florida State University (hereinafter "President"). The Board further assigns authority through this Code, a Board Regulation. The President has delegated direct authority to the Vice President for Student Affairs (hereinafter "Vice President"). The Vice President delegates this authority to the Dean of Students and to the Executive Director of University Housing. Implementation includes, but is not limited to, selection and training of hearing bodies.
- B. - C. The President, Vice President, and Dean of Students or designee have the authority to designate individuals internal or external to the University as advisors or hearing or appellate officers, when appropriate.
- D. All hearing bodies have the authority to consult with other appropriate University officials in order to effectively resolve a student conduct case.
- E. The initial decision or recommendation of a hearing body is considered a hearing decision. If a hearing decision is not appealed as provided within the Code, the hearing decision becomes final agency action.
- F. The authority of appellate officers is further enumerated in the Code section on "Appeal Procedures." Appellate decisions are considered recommendations to the Vice President or designee and become final agency action upon approval by the Vice President or designee.
- G. Any reference in the Code to the role or responsibilities of a specific University official may be delegated by the University official to an appropriate designee.

III. SCOPE

Florida State University may address the alleged misconduct of any student as specified in ~~Section V, the "Violations,"~~ section of this Code pursuant to the following:

- A. In any proceeding to determine whether a student has violated the Code, the University will apply the substantive Code provisions defining conduct violations that are in effect on the date the alleged conduct occurred. The University will apply the procedural standards, outlined in section VIII. "Procedural Standards", that are in effect at the time the student is provided notice of the specific allegation(s) of code, regulation, or other policy violations, regardless of the date of the alleged violation.
- B. The Code will apply to student conduct that occurs on University premises, at University-sponsored activities and off-campus as determined by the Student Conduct Authority. Factors that will be considered when determining whether to address off campus conduct include, but are not limited to, whether the incident is documented by a verifiable source, adversely affects the University community, occurs at a University program or activity, or endangers the health or safety of a student or others.
- C. The Code applies to the University as defined in this Code. Non-substantive procedural modifications that reflect the particular circumstances of each campus or international program are permitted as approved by the Student Conduct Authority.
- D. The Code includes procedural standards that apply specifically to the resolution of violations of the Student Conduct Code that are not encompassed under Sexual Harassment as defined in, or that fall outside of the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy. The University reserves the authority to determine what level of procedural standards will apply to a report or formal complaint and whether application of the appropriate procedural standards should change based on new or evolving information regarding a specific case. The University may, in its discretion, address conduct that has been dismissed during or as a result of the Title IX investigation process if the conduct or circumstances fall outside of the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy but would fall within the other jurisdictions and provisions of the Code.
- E. Student conduct proceedings may be initiated for alleged conduct that potentially violates both law and University policy without regard to the pendency of civil or criminal litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under these procedural standards may be carried out prior to, concurrently with, or following civil or criminal proceedings at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority. Determinations made or outcomes imposed will not be subject to change because criminal charges or civil complaints arising out of the same facts giving rise to violation of University policy were dismissed, reduced, or resolved in favor of the respondent.
- F. The University may adopt the finding of fact in a criminal or civil proceeding with a similar or higher standard of proof and conduct an outcomes-only proceeding if appropriate.

- G. The University has up to 180 calendar days to resolve an alleged violation(s) of the Code with a respondent upon receipt of a report of a possible violation that includes enough substantive information to conduct an investigation by the Student Conduct Authority or upon receipt of an investigation report from the Office of Title IX ~~Office~~. However, the University has discretion to extend this time period if deemed necessary to perform a thorough investigation, preserve fundamental due process, or due to other extraordinary circumstances.
- H. The University may restrict a student's contact with specified individuals when determined appropriate based on the facts or information and circumstances of each unique incident. The Student Conduct Authority can administratively issue such a restriction to any individuals involved in a conflict or incident, regardless of whether a determination of alleged violations has been made. Such restrictions are valid and enforceable only with respect to individuals who are students at the University.
- I. The University may determine what University personnel have an educational need-to- know regarding the status and/or outcome of conduct processes and to provide notice to relevant University personnel as determined by the Student Conduct Authority.

IV. AMNESTY

- A. An element of promoting safety is providing clear, responsible methods of reporting and addressing incidents of misconduct. Therefore, in order to remove potential barriers to reporting, the Student Conduct Authority, may in its discretion, not charge a complainant with a violation for conduct originating from the same incident if reported by that student in good faith to a University official, or otherwise discovered in investigation
- B. The University's highest priority is the physical and mental health and safety of students and members of the University community. Therefore, no student seeking assistance for themselves or others as a result of a hazing incident, intoxication, or medical emergency from alcohol or other drugs will be charged with violation of the alcohol, controlled substances, and illegal drug or hazing provisions of the Code if:
  - 1. The student calls local or University law enforcement or medical assistance;
  - 2. The student cooperates fully with University, law enforcement, and medical personnel as applicable; and
  - 3. The student remains at the scene with the person in need until assistance has arrived.
- C. The University recognizes that during times of a public health emergency as declared by local, state, or national authorities the priority of gathering information regarding contact and exposure to contagion may be greater than resolution of a violation of the Student Conduct

Code. Therefore, the University has discretion over whether a student will be charged with a violation of the Student Conduct Code if information is a result of providing important contact tracing information to University or public health officials.

V. VIOLATIONS

Each student is expected to abide by these rules of conduct and to be accountable for their behavior. Lack of familiarity with the Code is not a justification for violating any provision of this Code. Unless specifically noted, intent is not a required element to establish a Code violation. Intoxication or impairment from alcohol, drugs, or other substances is not a justification for violating any provision of this Code. These rules of conduct should be read broadly and are not designed to define prohibited acts in exhaustive terms. See section O for Title IX Compliance Policy violations.

A. Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct

1. Sex/Gender-based Discrimination

- a. Disparate treatment toward a person based on sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression which adversely impacts academic, employment, or other decisions related to University programs and activities.
- b. Maintaining seemingly neutral policies, practices, or requirements that have a disparate impact on academic or employment opportunities without a valid academic or business reason.

2. Sex/Gender-based Harassment. Conduct toward a person based on sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression that is so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it creates a hostile work or educational environment for the person; and

- a. Unreasonably denies, interferes with, or limits an individual's ability to participate in or benefit from University programs, opportunities, or activities; or
- b. Alters the terms, conditions, or privileges of the person's University employment.

The totality of the circumstances will be considered in determining whether conduct is harassment, including frequency of the conduct, its severity, whether it is physically threatening or humiliating, or merely offensive. These circumstances are considered from both subjective and objective viewpoints, considering not only the effect the conduct had on the person, but also the impact it likely would have had on a reasonable person in the same situation. Repeated incidents, where each would not, on its own, constitute harassment, may collectively constitute harassment. Harassment may also be found in a single severe incident, as well as a pattern of behavior.

3. Sexual Harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, nonverbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- a. Submission to such conduct is made an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment, academic status, receipt of University services, or participation in University programs or activities, or submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as a factor in, or the basis for, an academic or employment decision; or
- b. The conduct is so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it creates a hostile work or educational environment for the person; and
  - i. Unreasonably denies, interferes with, or limits an individual's ability to participate in or benefit from University programs, opportunities, or activities; or
  - ii. Alters the terms, conditions, or privileges of the person's University employment.

The totality of the circumstances will be considered in determining whether conduct is harassment, including frequency of the conduct, its severity, whether it is physically threatening or humiliating, or merely offensive. These circumstances are considered from both subjective and objective viewpoints, considering not only the effect the conduct actually had on the person, but also the impact it likely would have had on a reasonable person in the same situation. Repeated incidents, where each would not, on its own, constitute sexual harassment, may collectively constitute sexual harassment.

~~b.~~ c. Sexual Harassment may also be found in a single severe incident, as well as a pattern of behavior. Examples of behavior that could constitute sexual harassment when it meets the standard set forth above include, but are not limited to:

- i. Verbal Conduct: sexual teasing, sexual jokes, sexual innuendoes, sexual remarks about a person's body or sexual attractiveness, unwelcome demands for sexual favors, continuing unwelcome sexual advances or flirting, and sexual whistling (cat-calling).
- ii. Non-Verbal Conduct: staring at someone's sexual body parts (breasts, buttocks, groin), sexual gestures, and inappropriate display of sexual graffiti, posters, pictures, cartoons, drawings, emails, texts, body parts, or objects.
- iii. Physical Conduct: unwelcome touching of another's body, not otherwise defined by Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse or Non-Consensual Sexual Contact, such as massaging, patting, hugging, rubbing, etc.

4. Sexual Violence. Includes any sexual act performed without the consent of the Complainant (or when the Complainant is unable to give consent), whether referred to as sexual violence, rape, sexual battery, or sexual assault. For purposes of this policy, sexual violence includes:

- a. Non-Consensual Sexual Contact. Any unwelcome, intentional contact of a sexual nature either under or over clothing, without consent with a person's breasts, buttocks, groin, genitals, mouth, or other intimate parts.   - b. Domestic Violence. Violence between family or household members. Family/household members are, or are similarly situated to, spouses, former spouses, persons related by blood or marriage, persons who are presently residing together as if a family or who have resided together in the past as if a family, and person who are parents legal guardians of a child in common regardless of whether they have been married. With the exception of persons who have a child in common, the family or household members must be currently residing or have in the past resided together in the same single dwelling unit.

Dating/Domestic Violence also includes assault, aggravated assault, battery, aggravated battery, sexual assault, sexual battery, stalking, aggravated stalking, kidnapping, false imprisonment, or any criminal violation.

6. Stalking. #### ~~6.8.~~ General Guidelines

a. Basis for decision(s). The basis for any decision of responsibility in an informal or formal hearing will be whether upon a preponderance of the information, it is more likely than not that a violation or violations of the Code occurred. The burden to demonstrate that this standard has been met rests with the University, and all respondents are considered to be not responsible for a violation until and unless a hearing body makes a finding of responsibility.

b. Informal procedural standards. Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of evidence such as are applied in criminal or civil court are not used in student conduct proceedings.

c. Personal health and safety accommodations. The Student Conduct Authority may accommodate individuals with concerns for their personal health or safety during a proceeding or hearing by providing separate facilities or physical dividers, and/or by permitting participation by video conference or other viable means as determined by the Student Conduct Authority as appropriate and do not infringe upon fundamental due process.

d. Accommodations for qualified individuals with a disability. Any student with a qualified disabling condition may work with the Office of Accessibility Services (OAS) to request a reasonable accommodation in order to equally participate in the student conduct process. All requests for reasonable accommodations must be made either through the ~~Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards Authority~~ or the OAS. All accommodation requests must be made in a timely manner and coordinated with the student's appropriate disability specialist within the ~~SDRC OAS~~. Non-students may make a reasonable request for accommodation with the Student Conduct Authority.

e. Decision in absentia. If a complainant, respondent, or witness does not appear for a proceeding or hearing after notice, the Student Conduct Authority or hearing body may postpone the proceeding or review any information in support of or challenging the violations in the individual's absence and determine a finding regarding responsibility and any related outcomes based upon the available information.

f. Status pending conduct proceedings.

i. A respondent will remain eligible to attend classes and university activities pending the final outcome of a student conduct matter with the exception of when a Student Conduct Authority determines that an Interim Health and Safety Action, restricting a respondent from classes or activities is necessary to preserve the health, safety, or welfare of the community.

ii. If a respondent's eligibility to attend classes or university activities are temporarily suspended as noted above, but are subsequently found not responsible for any violation of the Student Conduct Code, the University will correct any record of enrollment status and refund a pro rata portion of any charges for tuition and out-of-state fees as appropriate.

iii. An individual who leaves the University before a conduct matter or assigned outcomes are resolved or completed may be prohibited from future enrollment or obtaining University records until the matter is resolved. Degrees, credentials, transcripts, enrollment certifications, diplomas, or other academic records may be withheld until the matter is resolved including completion of any assigned outcomes or suspension period. Final determination in a case that occurs after the awarding of an academic degree or credential with a result of expulsion may result in revocation of the academic degree or credential.

g. Any question of application of or objection to procedural standards, authority, scope or other provisions of the Code must be referred to the Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards ~~at least three days prior to a conduct hearing by the deadline specified in the notice letter.~~

h. A hearing body or the Student Conduct Authority may impose other reasonable procedural requirements for the orderly administration of student conduct proceedings, provided that such requirements are not inconsistent with this Code and do not infringe upon a student's procedural due process rights.

i. Joint hearing. In cases involving more than one respondent, whether a formal or informal hearing, the hearing body may permit the hearing concerning each student to be conducted either separately or jointly.

j. Hearing audio record. There will be a single record, such as a digital audio recording of all disciplinary proceedings. Deliberations will not be recorded. This recording will be the property of the University but will be made available for the complainant(s) or respondent(s) to review upon request. Any recordings of the hearing without the acknowledgement and permission of involved individuals is prohibited.

k. The decision of any hearing or resolution must be presented to the respondent and complainant (if applicable) in writing and within a reasonable period of time after the conclusion of the proceeding.

G. Outcomes

Outcomes are ~~interim action(s) or final~~ status designations or education assignments that alone or in any combination are assigned to a student ~~as an interim health or safety measure or~~ as a final outcome at the conclusion of a resolution process.

~~Status Outcomes.~~ The purpose of outcomes through the student conduct process is to facilitate student accountability, learning, and overall wellness. The outcomes listed below are not intended to serve as an exhaustive list of all outcomes the University may be able to utilize regarding a given student conduct concern.

1. Status Outcomes.

- a. Reprimand. A notice in writing to the student that the student is violating or has violated University expectations for behavior and that further violations may result in more severe disciplinary action.
- b. Housing Probation. This status is assigned to a student for a specified period of time. While on this status, any further violation(s) may result in termination or reassignment of housing. In addition, this status constitutes a disciplinary record that will remain on file ~~with the Student Conduct Authority~~ in a manner consistent with University records retention policies.
- c. Disciplinary Probation. This status is assigned to a student for a specified period of time. While on this status, any further violations may result in suspension or expulsion from the University. Other restrictions ~~that may be placed upon~~ apply when a student is on disciplinary probation ~~include including~~ but ~~are~~ not limited to: participation in University or student activities, representation of the University on athletic teams or in other leadership positions, entrance into University facilities or campus areas, or contact with any specified individual(s). In addition, this status constitutes a disciplinary record that will remain on file ~~with the Office of Rights and Responsibilities~~ in a manner consistent with University records retention policies.

- d. Suspension. Separation from the University after a specific date and for a specified period. Through the duration of the suspension period the individual may be restricted from University property and may be required to provide prior notice and receive approval from the Student Conduct Authority for the purpose of conducting University business. ~~Before a student may be readmitted to the University after a designated period of time, that person must meet with the Dean of Students to show satisfactory completion of any assigned directives or to discuss stipulated conditions set for their return to the University.~~ In addition, this status constitutes a disciplinary record that will remain on file ~~with the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards~~ indefinitely. The University will withdraw the student from any current courses and cancel any future enrollment. Whether an individual is eligible for a refund upon withdrawal or cancellation is dependent upon the University's refund schedule. Depending on the length of the suspension, a suspended student may be subject to University policies and requirements regarding readmission. If a student is required to apply for readmission, readmission is not guaranteed after a period of suspension is ~~served~~ completed; and the student is responsible for communicating with the Office of Admissions to identify appropriate process(es) for re-entry at the expiration of the suspension period and when any terms of suspension or other outcomes are satisfied.
- e. Expulsion. Separation from the University without the possibility of readmission. The University will withdraw the student from any current courses and cancel any future enrollment. Whether an individual is eligible for a refund upon withdrawal or cancellation is dependent upon the University's refund schedule. In addition, the individual may be restricted from University property. This status will be noted on the individual's academic transcript and will constitute a disciplinary record that will remain on file ~~with the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards~~ indefinitely.
- f. Degree Withdrawal or Revocation. A degree may be withdrawn or revoked when a student has graduated and an incident occurred before graduation in the following circumstances:
  - i. The student has a pending conduct hearing that was scheduled before or as the student graduated; or

H. Appeal Procedures

- 1. Student appeal. Both a complainant (if applicable) and a respondent are afforded a single opportunity to appeal decisions and/or any outcomes issued by a hearing body within five business days of the date of the written decision and outcomes. Only complainants who are students are eligible to submit an appeal request with the exception of cases of sex discrimination or sexual misconduct or Title IX Compliance Policy violations in which a complainant may submit an appeal regardless of student status. Any interim actions will remain in effect at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority, however any outcome(s) resulting from the original hearing decision will be held in abeyance pending the conclusion of the Florida State University appeal process. A complainant (when applicable) and a respondent will be notified of an appeal submission by the other individual, given the opportunity to review the submitted appeal request, and given the opportunity to submit a response.

2. Required Format. All appeal requests must be in writing using the appropriate form, identify the basis or bases for appeal, and include any supporting documentation the appealing individual or student wishes to be considered.
3. Scope of Review. Deference is given to the original hearing body's findings of fact and decision on responsibility and/or any outcomes; therefore, the burden is on the individual filing an appeal request to sufficiently demonstrate cause to alter the decision of the hearing body or any outcomes. An appeal review will generally be limited to a review of the record of the hearing and supporting documents for one or more of the bases of appeal listed below, provided however, that under extraordinary circumstances the appeal administrator may request additional information or clarification from the University, investigator(s), hearing body, Student Conduct Authority, complainant, respondent, or witnesses for purposes of this review.
4. Appellate Administrator(s). The Vice President for Student Affairs designates University administrators to facilitate policies and procedural standards as outlined in this Code, including appellate review. All intermediate appellate reviews are considered recommendations for review and action for the Vice President for Student Affairs' final agency action on behalf of Florida State University.
  - a. Decisions of the Administrative Hearing Panel, Student Conduct Board, or hearing administrators appointed by Student Conduct and Community Standards may be appealed to the Dean of Students.
  - b. Decisions of the Residential Conduct Board or administrators appointed by University Housing may be appealed to the Executive Director of University Housing.
  - c. Decisions of the Dean of Students may be appealed to the Vice President.
5. Bases for Appeal. Appeal reviews are not a "re-hearing" of a student conduct matter, rather, a review of process and submitted information to ensure stated procedural standards were followed. Appeal considerations are limited to one or more of the following bases:
  - a. Process Review. That the proceeding was not conducted in accordance with established procedural standards. Such procedural errors must have substantially affected the outcome of the hearing.

- b. Bias Review. That the proceedings were not conducted without bias or prejudice on the part of the hearing body. May include but is not limited to demonstration of a conflict of interest, or failure to objectively evaluate all relevant information.
- c. Information Review. That the information presented in a proceeding does not support the finding of the hearing body that a violation of Code exists.
- d. Outcome Review. That the outcomes are extraordinarily disproportionate given the nature of the violations and any aggravating or mitigating circumstances presented.
- e. New Information. That new information exists that was not known to the individual appealing and could not reasonably have been know or discovered at the time of the original proceeding, and which would have substantially affected the outcome of the proceeding. This does not include statements from a complainant or respondent who did not appear for a proceeding or hearing.

For cases falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy, the appeal grounds are limited to those identified in the policy.

- 6. Appeal Decision. An appeal administrator reviewing an appeal request may make one of the following recommendations:
  - a. Affirm. The administrator may affirm the decision and/or outcomes of the original hearing body.
  - b. Alter outcome. The administrator may alter the outcome(s) issued by the original hearing body. Alteration in the outcome may include reducing or increasing the severity of outcome(s) or requirements.
  - c. New hearing. The administrator may determine a new hearing by a different hearing body is warranted to correct procedural irregularity or to consider new information. A student may appeal any decision by a hearing body assigned to adjudicate a new hearing.
  - d. Remand. The administrator may direct the original hearing body to review their original decision subject to any instructions from the appeal administrator, including the requirement of further clarification of the rationale supporting the decision. The hearing body may affirm its original decision or render a new decision consistent with those instructions. A student may appeal a decision made on remand; however, if a hearing body affirms its original decision, a student may not appeal the decision on the same grounds as in the previous appeal.
- 7. Final Agency Action. The appeal administrator will forward findings and recommendations to the Vice President for Student Affairs for review. The Vice President's review and decision is considered the final decision of the University and will be communicated in writing within fifteen business days to the respondent and if applicable, simultaneously to the complainant. This timeline may be extended if necessary, in consideration of the record on appeal. Final agency action decisions are only appealable by writ of certiorari to the Second Judicial Circuit in and for Leon County, Florida.

I. Record Keeping Practices

1. File maintenance. A student who participates in a student conduct process as a complainant, respondent or witness has a file created and maintained by the ~~Office~~ Department of Student Conduct and Community Standards or University Housing respectively. Files are maintained in a manner consistent with University record retention policy and in compliance with Florida Public Record Law. Files regarding cases resulting in a respondent's suspension or expulsion are maintained indefinitely.
2. Access to and Copies of Records. Students are permitted access and review of their records pursuant to FERPA for the purpose of reviewing information that is subject to consideration as part of a student conduct proceeding.
3. Transcriptions of hearings. Any student desiring a transcript of a recorded hearing that is a part of their education record should contact the Office of the General Counsel, which will arrange for the preparation of the transcript by a court reporting service. The court reporting service will provide the transcript to the Office of the General Counsel, which will perform a confidentiality review of the transcript and redact any confidential or exempt information pursuant to state or federal law. The requester shall bear the cost of the transcript preparation and confidentiality review.
4. Petition for clearing a disciplinary record. Student conduct records may be cleared upon review and approval by the Dean of Students ~~-, or designee.~~ When a record is cleared, the information it contains is no longer considered a disciplinary record. However, the University may be required to produce the record regardless of its status in order to comply with a subpoena or other information request consistent with federal or state law. The University is required by law and policy to retain student education records for specified periods of time, and for certain purposes. Clearing a record affects only information maintained by the ~~Office~~ Department of Student Conduct and Community Standards and University Housing, respectively. Copies of letters distributed by or to other University departments, incident reports, police reports, and the results of previous background checks reported outside of the ~~Office of~~ Student Conduct ~~and Community Standards~~ Authority are not affected by this process.

Petitions for clearing a record may be made no sooner than one year after the date of the respondent's last finding of responsibility from the student conduct process or one calendar year prior to their anticipated graduation, whichever is later. The request must be made in writing to the Dean of Students and will not be granted for conduct that resulted in suspension or expulsion from the University. A petition may also be denied for any records related to conduct that posed a threat to a member of the University community or serious damage to University property.

J. Amendments

1. This Code will be reviewed in its entirety every two years. Any substantive changes will be reviewed by the Vice President for Student Affairs and presented to the Board of Trustees for approval. Any amendments can be proposed by University community members for review by submitting to the Vice President for Student ' Affairs.
2. If any portion of state or federal statute or regulation is stayed or held invalid by a court of law, any impacted elements of this policy will be deemed revoked as of the publication date of the opinion or order.

I. INTRODUCTION

The Student Organization Conduct Code (further referred to as “Code”) emphasizes Florida State University’s (further referred to as “University”) commitment to a campus community which exercises the responsible engagement of student freedoms. The pursuit of responsible freedom is consistent with the tenets of the Seminole Creed and efforts to promote civility at the University, as students balance their pursuit of excellence and exploration with consideration to the impact of behavior on themselves and others.

The University is proud of the plethora of student organizations thriving on campus. Student organizations play a key role in the campus culture at the University and are valuable in upholding the values of the University. Student organizations are the backbone of student engagement at the University. Students can select academic, social, service, honorary, sports clubs, political, religious and many other organizations to connect with during their time at the University.

Student organizations at the University are actively involved in leading, supporting, and serving the University community. Student organizations foster interpersonal relationships, explore educational opportunities, develop professional skills, and enhance academic experiences. Student organizations provide student spaces to develop skills for life after graduation as active citizens.

The Student Conduct Authority at the University embraces the University’s commitment to an educational experience that provides students with an understanding of the complex moral issues inherent in human life. The Student Code of Conduct and Student Organization Code of Conduct reemphasize the dignity and worth of each person and substantiates the need for an inclusive environment to support the betterment of all persons associated with the University. “The University is a compassionate community. In its treatment of students, it recognizes the wisdom both of letting students experience the consequences of their actions and of providing the opportunity to learn and grow in ways that can overcome past difficulties” (General Bulletin, Florida State University, 2016).

The University fully recognizes the values and right of all students and individuals to seek knowledge, debate ideas, form opinions, and freely express views in accordance with the expectations set forth in this Code. The University supports the principles of free speech and civil discourse outlined in the Board of Governors’ “Statement of Free Expression” \(“Statement of Free Expression”, Florida Board of Governors, 2019\). This right must be exercised in a manner which will not interfere with the same rights and freedoms of others in their enjoyment of the benefits of the programs offered by this University or their lawful use of University facilities, including ingress and egress (for more information see the University’s Freedom of Expression Rights and Responsibilities regulation). Additional expectations for student organizations are outlined in University rules, regulations, and/or policies.

The student conduct process is designed to be educational in nature and promotes the University’s mission. Being a member of the University community is a privilege, and the conduct process will determine if a student organization’s conduct warrants modification of or restriction upon that privilege.

The University may, in its discretion, address conduct that has been dismissed during or as a result of the Title IX investigation process if the conduct or circumstances fall outside of the jurisdiction of the Title IX Policy but would fall within the other jurisdictions and provisions of the Code.
- E. Student Organization conduct proceedings may be initiated for alleged conduct that potentially violates both law and University policy without regard to the pendency of civil or criminal litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under these procedural standards may be carried out prior to, concurrently with, or following civil or criminal proceedings at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority. Determinations made or outcomes imposed will not be subject to change because criminal charges or civil complaints arising out of the same facts giving rise to violation(s) of University policy were dismissed, reduced, or resolved in favor of an individual or student organization.
- F. The University may adopt the finding of fact in a criminal or civil proceeding with a similar or higher standard of proof and conduct an outcomes-only proceeding if appropriate.
- G. The University has up to 180 calendar days to resolve an alleged violation(s) of the Code with a responding student organization upon receipt of a report of a possible violation that includes enough substantive information to conduct an investigation by the Student Conduct Authority or upon receipt of an investigation report from the Title IX Office. However, the University has discretion to extend this time period if deemed necessary to perform a thorough investigation, preserve fundamental due process, or due to other extraordinary circumstances.

- H. Student Organization decisions and outcomes may be published by the University.
- I. The University may restrict a student's or student members of a student organization's contact with specified individuals when determined appropriate based on the facts or information and circumstances of each unique incident. The Student Conduct Authority can administratively issue such restrictions to any individuals involved in a conflict or incident, regardless of whether a determination of alleged violations has been made. Such restrictions are valid and enforceable only with respect to individuals who are students at the University.
- J. The University may determine what University personnel have an educational need-to-know regarding the status and/or outcome of student organization conduct processes and to provide notice to relevant University personnel as determined by the Student Conduct Authority.

V. Amnesty

- A. An element of promoting safety is providing clear, responsible methods of reporting and addressing incidents of misconduct. Therefore, in order to remove potential barriers to reporting, the Student Conduct Authority may in its discretion, not charge a complainant with a violation for conduct originating from the same incident if reported by that student in good faith to a University official, or otherwise discovered in investigation.
- B. The University's highest priority is the physical and mental health and safety of students and members of the University community. Therefore, no student seeking assistance for themselves or others as a result of a hazing incident, intoxication, or medical emergency from alcohol or other drugs will be charged with violation of the alcohol, controlled substances, and illegal drug or hazing provisions of this Code if:
  - 1. That student calls local or University law enforcement or medical assistance;
  - 2. That student cooperates fully with University, law enforcement, and medical personnel, as applicable; and
  - 3. That student remains at the scene with the person in need until assistance has arrived
- C. Amnesty provisions may extend beyond individual students to a student organization at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority.
- D. The University recognizes that during times of a public health emergency as declared by local, state, or national authorities the priority of gathering information regarding contact and exposure to contagion may be greater than resolution of a violation of the Student Organization Conduct Code. Therefore, the University has discretion over whether a student organization will be charged with a violation of the Student Organization Conduct Code if information is a result of providing important contact tracing information to the University or public health officials.

- A. In determining whether a Student Organization may be held collectively responsible for the individual actions of its members, guests, contractors, and/or agents, all the available factors and circumstances surrounding the specific incident will be reviewed and evaluated. ~~c. A separate notice including the date, time, and location of the disciplinary proceeding (if applicable) will be provided a minimum of seven days before any such proceeding.~~

~~d. The identity of hearing body and a listing of all relevant witnesses will be sent a minimum of five business days in advance of the disciplinary proceeding. This information may alternatively be included in the written notice.~~

d. Applicable deadlines for submissions by the involved parties including, but not limited to, impact statements, information, objections, and witness identification where not otherwise specified. For cases involving a complainant, these deadlines will typically be required further in advance to allow both parties adequate notice to prepare for the disciplinary proceeding. The University may adjust these deadlines with written notice in a reasonable amount of time prior to the disciplinary proceeding.

E. Information Session

~~1. During the information session the complainant or responding student organization representative may view all materials related to the case, review procedural standards, and discuss options for resolution. The Student Conduct Authority will determine what resolution process is appropriate after considering the expressed preferences of any complainants and responding student organization, and the totality of the circumstances, which include alternative resolution, no contest resolution, informal hearing, formal hearing, or an outcomes only hearing.~~

If a responding student organization elects to resolve the allegation and the Student Conduct Authority deems appropriate, the administrator conducting the information session may immediately facilitate a resolution or schedule the resolution to take place within a reasonable time. Options for resolution will be scheduled no sooner than five days after the information session, unless a student organization waives their right for a resolution to be scheduled sooner.

~~2. In cases involving a complainant, the administrator will gather the necessary information and conduct an appropriate resolution within a reasonable time.~~

- ~~a.—An alternative resolution process will only be considered if both a complainant (if applicable) and responding student mutually agree. An alternative resolution process may be considered in cases falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Policy.~~
- ~~b.—If a responding student organization representative elects either a no-contest resolution or informal hearing and the Student Conduct Authority deems appropriate, the administrator conducting the information session may immediately facilitate a no-contest resolution process or conduct the informal hearing as the hearing administrator or schedule the informal hearing or no-contest resolution process to take place within a reasonable time. In cases involving a complainant, the hearing administrator will gather the necessary information and conclude the no-contest resolution or hearing within a reasonable time. A no-contest resolution or informal hearing for resolution of a case falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy is not permitted.~~
- ~~c.—A formal hearing process will be utilized if elected by the responding student organization representative or if determined by the Student Conduct Authority to be the appropriate resolution process based on the totality of the circumstances of the case. If selected, a single hearing administrator is the only option for a formal hearing if the incident alleges violations of the Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct policy.~~
- ~~d.—An outcomes only hearing may be utilized when a student organization has been found at fault in civil court with a preponderance of the evidence or higher standard at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority.~~

3. When a responding student organization has two or more outstanding incidents, those incidents may be heard as a single case at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority.

F. Resolutions

1. Alternate Resolution

- a) In an Alternative Resolution, the responding student organization accepts responsibility for the behaviors and agrees to complete assigned outcomes. Once the Alternative Resolution Agreement is signed by the student organization representative, it constitutes a University Directive. By agreeing to resolve the allegation with an alternative resolution the responding student organization waives their right to resolve the allegation through a hearing and the signed agreement constitutes final agency action.

  - ii. Whether the responding student organization has recently resolved an allegation with an alternative resolution.
  - iii. The number and severity of the alleged violations.
- e) Allegations involving an identified complainant will not be eligible for an Alternative Resolution.

2. Restorative Resolution

- a. Participation is voluntary and both the Responsible Organization Representative Party and the Impacted Party must consent in writing to participate in a Restorative Resolution via the Restorative Resolution Opt-In Form.
- b. The Restorative Resolution process is used for incidents which involve allege behavior that violates a specific University policy.
- c. The Restorative Resolution process will not be used for incidents that allege violence against a member of a vulnerable population, the use of a dangerous weapon, or significant physical injury.
- d. The Responsible Organization Party must take responsibility for having violated the alleged policy to participate in a Restorative Resolution.
- e. The University will not pressure or compel any party to participate in any form of Restorative Resolution.
- f. The Restorative Resolution process is not a disciplinary proceeding and therefore, an advisor may not speak on behalf of the Responsible Organization Representative Party, Impacted Party, or Affected Party.
- g. Any party may withdraw from the Restorative Resolution process until the signing of the Restorative Resolution Agreement.
- h. In the event that any party withdraws from the Restorative Resolution or if parties are not able to reach an agreement through the Restorative Resolution Agreement, the incident will be referred back to the Student Conduct Authority or Office of Title IX, based on the nature of the allegation, for further action.

~~a. Alternative resolution is a voluntary process that allows the responding student organization to accept responsibility for a violation of expectations. The alternative resolution process is designed to eliminate the behavior, prevent its recurrence, and remedy its effects in a manner that meets the needs of the complainant or entity while maintaining the safety of the campus community. The alternative resolution process will only be used with the agreement of both the complainant or entity and responding student organization and under the direction of the Student Conduct Authority, who may elect to cease the resolution process at any time and revert to an investigation, hearing, or other resolution. Please note that the complainant or entity may be a University Official, or a University Official representing a University department.~~

~~b. The alternative resolution options available under this Code recognize:~~

~~a. Participation in this process is voluntary and either the complainant or responding student organization representative can choose to end the process at any time prior to signing a resolution agreement.~~

~~b. Both the complainant and responding student organization representative must participate in individual information~~

~~sessions with appropriate staff to learn more about the resolution process prior to participating.~~

- ~~e. The process is only intended to be used once by a responding student organization and may not be considered if a responding student organization has previously been alleged to have violated the Code within a three year period. Further, the resolution process will not be considered for any incident that alleges any of the following: violence against a member of a vulnerable population, such as a minor or individual with a developmental disability; the use of a weapon; significant physical injury; that there are multiple alleged perpetrators of violence; or that there has been alleged violence against multiple individuals.~~
- ~~d. If the complainant and responding student organization representative mutually agree to participate in an alternative resolution process, they must agree to follow a timeline to be established in the information session for meeting schedules and response deadlines. An agreement resolution must be reached within 30 calendar days from agreement to proceed with the alternative resolution process. The University reserves the right to adjust established timelines, if necessary, to accommodate for limited staffing resources or other unforeseen circumstances.~~
- ~~e. The complainant and responding student organization representative must agree to all terms established upon agreeing to engage in alternative resolution, or the case will be resolved through an investigation or other resolution process pursuant to the Code.~~
- ~~f. The responding student organization may be charged with a violation of the Code for failure to adhere to the requirements laid out in the resolution agreement.~~
- ~~g. Resolution agreements that are finalized through the alternative resolution process are not categorized as a student organization conduct record at the University but can be referred to as an aggravating factor in assigning outcomes in the event of any future violations.~~
- ~~h. Resolution agreements must be signed by both the complainant and responding student organization representative as well as the Student Conduct Authority or Office of Investigations and Assessment. If an agreement is unable to be reached, the matter~~

~~will be referred to the Student Conduct Authority for further action and adjudication.~~

~~i. Resolution agreements reached at the conclusion of the resolution process are final and not subject to any other review or appeal. Individuals participating in the resolution process and mutually agree with the final resolution are waiving the ability to utilize a formal investigation and hearing process through the Student Conduct Authority.~~

~~j. Both the complainant and responding student organization representative may be accompanied by an advisor at any meeting during the alternative resolution process.~~

b. 3. No-Contest Resolution

- a. A responding Student Organization may elect to resolve an outstanding violation(s) through a no contest resolution in lieu of a hearing if deemed appropriate by the Student Conduct Authority and if the student organization representative accepts the finding of both responsibility or does not contest responsibility for the alleged violation(s) and assigned outcomes.
- b. In a no-contest resolution, because the student organization accepts the finding of responsibility, the proceeding will be focused on potential appropriate outcomes.
- c. No-contest resolutions may take place during the information session or scheduled within a reasonable time thereafter.
- d. No-contest resolutions are noted as a finding of responsibility for violation(s) of the Code and are considered a student organization conduct record.
- e. No-contest resolutions are not permitted for cases falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy.

e. 4. Informal Hearing

- a. A responding Student Organization may elect to resolve an outstanding violation(s) through an informal hearing if deemed appropriate by the Student Conduct Authority. Informal hearings are typically utilized when there is not conflicting, complex, or additional information that would be best examined through a formal hearing setting.

- b. Informal hearings may take place as an element of the information session or scheduled within a reasonable time.
- c. The responding student organization representative may provide information including reports, witness statements, communications, or other documentation in the hearing.
- d. A hearing administrator may temporarily adjourn the informal hearing if the administrator determines that further review of clarification is necessary including, but not limited to interviewing the complainant or witnesses.
- e. A hearing administrator may utilize information gathered from information sessions, investigation meetings, or other proceedings involving individuals associated with the incident in making a determination on responsibility. If such information is under consideration, a responding student organization representative will be informed of the information and have an opportunity to respond.
- f. Informal hearings are not permitted for cases falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy.

d. 5. Formal Hearing

- a. A formal hearing may be heard by a single hearing administrator or Administrative Hearing Panel. For cases that include allegations of sex discrimination or sexual misconduct either under the Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct Policy or the Title IX Compliance Policy, if a formal hearing is selected, the hearing will be conducted by a single administrator.
- b. Notice of a formal hearing, including the identity of the hearing administrator or body, will occur at least five business days prior to the hearing. Any objection regarding selected hearing administrator or hearing body must be submitted ~~three business days prior to the start of a hearing by the deadline specified in the notice-~~
- c. Formal Hearing Guidelines
  - i. Private hearing. A formal hearing is conducted in private. The complainant(s) (if applicable), responding student organization representative, and advisor(s) are allowed to attend the entire portion of the hearing at which information is presented. Admission of any other individual to the hearing is at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority.

- ii. Scheduling. Formal hearings are scheduled at the earliest availability of the complainant(s) (if applicable), responding student organization representative, person providing information on behalf of the University, and the hearing body. Student availability is determined based on academic class schedules and requirements. Absent exigent circumstances, lack of availability based upon personal matters, employment schedules, or the availability of an advisor, advocate, or legal representative are not considered in scheduling a formal hearing. A student or student organization should select as an advisor a person whose schedule reasonably allows attendance at the scheduled date and time for the hearing.
- iii. Witnesses. ~~In a formal hearing, a~~ Appropriate witnesses identified by the Student Conduct Authority, reporting individual(s), or the responding student organization representative may be invited to the hearing to provide information in support of, or challenging responsibility of the alleged violation(s). Absent extraordinary circumstances, any witnesses must be identified at the information session or by the date otherwise given in a notice of allegations or other communication from the Student Conduct Authority. Witnesses will be invited by the Student Conduct Authority. Potential witnesses who could have been reasonably known or identified during the course of the University investigation, but who were not otherwise provided by the organization or individual afforded the opportunity to do so, will not be invited to a Formal Hearing. Only witnesses providing relevant and permissible information will be invited. Witnesses identified solely on the basis of character reference will not be allowed to participate in the fact-finding portion of a hearing. In identifying appropriate witnesses, the student organization representative or complainant shall supply the name, email and a summary of information the witness will provide to address the student conduct code allegations. Witnesses will be invited by the Student Conduct Authority. ~~Formal h~~earings will be scheduled within a timeframe to allow witnesses reasonable notice to participate, but a proceeding will not be unreasonably delayed or disrupted based on the availability of witnesses. In the case of a formal hearing, the University will make reasonable efforts to secure in-person testimony from law enforcement officers in cases where a student conduct charge results from an incident that was reported to law enforcement, and any University personnel who were involved in investigating a matter. However, sworn ~~affidavits-statements~~ of law enforcement officers and official university reports may be considered by a hearing body in the absence of in-person testimony of the law enforcement officer or appropriate University employee(s), provided that the hearing body reasonably finds that the ~~affidavit statements~~ or report is otherwise reliable, and the responding student has an adequate opportunity to respond to all facts alleged in the ~~affidavit statement~~. Other written witness statements will be accepted for review in a formal hearing if the witness does not attend at the discretion of the hearing administrator or body. However, such statements will not be considered as having equal weight as witness information presented in a hearing and cannot be used as the sole information supporting a finding of responsibility. ~~In formal hearings of cases falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Policy, witness statements may be relied upon for determination of responsibility if subject to questioning as described in the Title IX Compliance Policy.~~

iv. Questions. The hearing administrator or body may pose questions directly to any individual providing information in the hearing. The complainant(s) (if applicable) and responding student organization representative may propose questions to be answered by one another, but questions must be directed to the hearing administrator or chair of the hearing body rather than to the individual directly. The advisor, ~~advocate, or legal representative~~ may propose questions to be answered by a complainant, responding student organization, or witness on behalf of the student organization they are representing, but questions must be directed to the hearing administrator or chair of the hearing body rather than to the individual directly. The hearing administrator or chair will determine whether questions or potential information are appropriate for review as part of the formal hearing at their discretion. In formal hearings falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy, questioning of participants in the hearing and determinations of relevancy will be made as described in the Title IX Compliance Policy.

v. Information.

- a. Additional information, including, but not limited to, reports, witness statements, communications, or other documentation may also be reviewed in a hearing. Any such documentation that was reasonably available during a University investigation, but which was not provided during the course of the investigation by the student organization representative

Formatted: Indent: Left: 2.19", Space After: 8 pt, Widow/Orphan control, Adjust space between Latin and Asian text, Adjust space between Asian text and numbers or other individuals afforded an opportunity to do so, will not be considered. Any additional information must be submitted to the Student Conduct Authority immediately upon discovery of such information. ~~In cases falling under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Policy, information will be relied upon for determination of responsibility if subject to questioning as described in the Title IX Policy.~~

- b. Individuals may decline to provide information or answer questions posed in a hearing. However, the hearing body will make a decision on responsibility after considering the information that is shared as a part of the formal hearing.
- c. Past violations of the responding student organizations, witnesses, or reporting individual(s) will be excluded from the hearing unless deemed relevant by the administrator or chair of the hearing body.
- d. Past behavior of a responding student organization may be reviewed as an aggravating or mitigating factor for consideration in assigning appropriate outcomes if the responding student organization is found responsible for a violation.
- e. Complainants and responding student organization representatives may submit an impact statement to the appropriate Student Conduct Authority ~~three business days prior to the formal hearing by the deadline specified in the notice letter~~. Impact statements are considered an element of the hearing record and accessible for review by a complainant and responding student organization in the event there is a finding of responsibility. If applicable, the complainant and responding student organization representative may review the impact statement and provide a response within a reasonable time and by such method as determined by the Student Conduct Authority.
- f. Consideration of information for a determination regarding responsibility is limited to that information presented in the mishearing. Information that is discovered in a separate 1-mtgor proceeding originating from the same reported incident may be introduced in a formal hearing.

- a. At the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority, hearings may be conducted asynchronously by written statements. This format is generally only offered in cases where a court order or other protective order prevents contact between one or more of the involved parties or key witnesses. Other possible circumstances may be reviewed upon request.
- b. To resolve the allegation through an asynchronous hearing, the responding student organization, and complainant if applicable, must agree to participate in writing and waive their ability to conduct live questioning. The responding student organization, and complainant if applicable, may submit their questions for the other involved parties and witnesses by the specified deadline.
- c. All relevant individuals will be given the opportunity to submit written statements in lieu of live hearing participation. ## 7. Outcomes-Only Hearing

- a. The Student Conduct Authority may determine that an outcomes-only hearing is appropriate to resolve a case in the following scenarios:
  - i. -where a student organization as an entity is found guilty or-at fault in a criminal or civil court based on a preponderance of the evidence or higher standard; or-
  - ii. there has been a determination by another investigation/disciplinary proceeding at Florida State University for the same or comparable policy violation.
- b. Outcome-only hearings resolutions may take place as an element of the information session or be scheduled within a reasonable time. If a student organization representative does not participate in the hearing, the Student Conduct Authority will issue the appropriate outcomes based on the information available.
- ~~b.c.~~ In cases involving an identified complainant, the Outcome Resolution may not be conducted as a part of the information session.
- ~~e.d.~~ The responding student organization representative and complainant(s) may provide information, including an impact statement, for consideration.

Formatted: Indent: Left: 1.75", No bullets or numbering d.e. An outcomes-only hearing is not permitted for violations charged under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Compliance Policy.

e.f. An outcomes-only decision is not eligible for appeal on the basis of information review.

4. General Guidelines

- a. Basis for decision(s). The basis for any decision of responsibility in an informal or formal hearing will be, whether upon a preponderance of the information, it is more likely than not that a violation or violations of the Code occurred. The burden to demonstrate that this standard has been met rests with the University, and all responding student organizations are considered to be not responsible for a violation until and unless a hearing body makes a finding of responsibility.
- b. Informal procedural standards. Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of evidence such as are applied in criminal or civil court are not used in student organization conduct proceedings.
- c. Personal Health and Safety Accommodations. The Student Conduct Authority may accommodate individuals with concerns for their personal health or safety during a proceeding or hearing by providing separate facilities or physical dividers, and/or by permitting participation by video conference or other viable means as determined by the Student Conduct Authority as appropriate and do not infringe upon fundamental due process.
- d. Accommodations for qualified individuals with a disability. Any student with a qualified disabling condition may work with the Office of Accessibility Services (OAS) to request a reasonable accommodation in order to equally participate in the student or student organization conduct process. All requests for reasonable accommodations must be made either through the ~~Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards~~, Student Conduct Authority or the OAS. All accommodation requests must be made in a timely manner and coordinated with the student's appropriate disability specialist within the OAS. Non-students may make a reasonable request for accommodation with the Student Conduct Authority.
- e. Decision in absentia. If a complainant, responding student organization representative, or witness does not appear for a proceeding or hearing after notice, the Student Conduct Authority or hearing body may postpone the proceeding or review any information in support of or challenging the violations in the individual's absence and determine a finding regarding responsibility and any related outcomes based upon the available information. VI. Holds. The Student Conduct Authority may place a hold on the privileges of recognition of any student organization who fails to resolve allegations of a violation(s) of the Code in a timely manner.

- f. Holds. The Student Conduct Authority may place a hold on the privileges of recognition of any student organization who fails to resolve allegations of a violation(s) of the Code in a timely manner.
- g. Any question of application of or objection to procedural standards, authority, scope or other provisions of the Code must be referred to the Student Conduct Authority by the deadline specified in the notice letter. at least 3 days prior to a conduct hearing.
- h. A hearing body or the Student Conduct Authority may impose other reasonable procedural requirements for the orderly administration of student conduct proceedings, provided that such requirements are not inconsistent with this Code and do not infringe upon a student organization's procedural due process rights.
- i. Joint hearing. In cases involving more than one responding student organization, whether in a formal or informal hearing, the hearing body may permit the hearing concerning each student organization to be conducted either separately or jointly.
- j. Hearing record. There will be a single record, such as a digital audio recording of all disciplinary proceedings. Deliberations will not be recorded. This recording will be the property of the University but will be made available for the complainant(s) or responding student organization representatives to review upon request. Any recordings of the hearing without the acknowledgement and permission of involved individuals are prohibited.

k. The decision of any hearing or resolution must be presented to the respondent and complainant (if applicable) in writing and within a reasonable period of time after the conclusion of the proceeding.

G. Outcomes.

Outcomes are ~~interim action(s) or final~~ status designations or education assignments that alone or in any combination are assigned to a student organization as ~~an interim health or safety measure or as~~ a final outcome at the conclusion of a resolution process.

The purpose of outcomes through the student organization conduct process is to facilitate accountability, learning, and overall wellness. The outcomes listed below are not intended to serve as an exhaustive list of all outcomes the University may be able to utilize regarding a given student conduct concern.

~~1. Interim Health and Safety Actions-~~

~~Interim actions may be initiated to protect the health or safety of individuals involved in an incident or investigation or in circumstances when an organization is alleged to have engaged in conduct that poses a substantial risk to the operation of the University. IHSA's may be issued in conjunction with, or pending the outcome of, an investigative or adjudicative process of the Student Conduct Code, Student Organization Conduct Code, Sex Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct policy, or Title IX Compliance policy.~~

- ~~a. Interim action(s) will be communicated in writing consistent with the notice provisions of this Code.~~
- ~~b. Interim action(s) are temporary measures applied through the duration of an investigation and/or resolution process and do not replace a resolution process outlined in this Code.~~
- ~~c. A student organization may request a review of an interim action in writing to the Dean of Students. The scope of the request is limited to whether the interim action(s) should remain in place, based on the information available. The responding student organization in an IHSA is afforded an opportunity to respond to the allegations or information presented by the University as the basis for the IHSA. The Dean of Students will schedule a review meeting with the requesting student organization representative within three business days of receiving the written request. The requesting student organization may provide information including reports, witness statements, communications, or other documentation in the meeting. When applicable, a complainant may provide information to the Dean of Students for purposes of this review. Interim actions may be affirmed, modified, or lifted as a result of a requested review. The Dean of Students will communicate the final decision in writing within one business day of the review meeting.~~
- ~~d. Interim Action(s) may include any actions deemed appropriate to mitigate the threat to health, safety, or welfare of the University community or individuals involved in an incident, ranging from interim suspension to restrictions on participation in university sponsored programs or activities or presence on campus.~~

~~2.1. Status Outcomes~~

The outcomes listed below are not intended to serve as an exhaustive list of all outcomes the University may be able to utilize regarding a given student conduct concern.

- a. Reprimand. A notice in writing to the student organization that the group is violating or has violated University expectations for behavior and that further violations may result in more severe disciplinary action.
- b. Disciplinary Probation. This status is assigned to a student organization for a specified period of time. While on this status, any further violations may result in suspension or loss of recognition from the University. Other restrictions that may be placed upon a student organization on disciplinary probation may include, but are not limited to the following:
  - i. Participation in University or student activities,
  - ii. Representation of the University in leadership positions or eligibility for awards or honors,

  - ii. Representation of the University in leadership positions or eligibility for awards or honors,
  - iii. Use or entrance into university facilities or campus areas,

Loss of recognition. Loss of recognition from the University after a specific date and for an indefinite period of time. During which time, the student organization will be prohibited from utilizing the support and services afforded a recognized student organization and privileges as outlined under the "suspension of recognition" section. ~~c.a. Voluntary membership reviews or cease and desist of student organization activities to determine a strategic plan for the future of the student organization.~~

1. Both a complainant (if applicable) and a responding student organization are afforded a single opportunity to appeal decisions and/or any outcomes issued by a hearing body within five business days of the date of the written decision and outcomes. Only complainants who meet the definition of a student are eligible to submit an appeal request with the exception of cases of sex discrimination or sexual misconduct in which a complainant may submit an appeal regardless of student status. Any interim actions will remain in effect at the discretion of the Student Conduct Authority, however any outcome(s) resulting from the original hearing decision will be held in abeyance pending the conclusion of the Florida State University appeal process. A complainant (when applicable) and a responding student organization will be notified of an appeal submission by the other, given the opportunity to review the submitted appeal request, and given the opportunity to submit a response.
2. Required Format. All appeal requests must be in writing, identify the basis or bases for appeal, and include any supporting documentation the appealing individual or student organization wishes to be considered.
3. Scope of Review. Deference is given to the original hearing body's findings of fact and decision on responsibility and/or any outcomes; therefore, the burden is on the individual or Student Organization filing an appeal request to sufficiently demonstrate cause to alter the decision of the hearing body or any outcomes. An appeal review will generally be limited to a review of the record of the hearing and supporting documents for one or more of the bases of appeal listed below, provided however, that under extraordinary circumstances the appeal administrator may request additional information or clarification from the University, investigator(s), hearing body, Student Conduct Authority, reporting individual, responding student organization, or witnesses for purposes of this review.

4. Appellate Administrator(s). The Vice President designates University administrators to facilitate policies and procedural standards as outlined in this Code, including appellate review. All intermediate appellate reviews are considered recommendations for review and action for the Vice President for Student Affairs' final agency action on behalf of Florida State University.
  - a. Decisions of the Administrative Hearing Panel, Student Conduct Board, or hearing administrators appointed by the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards may be appealed to the Dean of Students.
  - b. Decisions of the Dean of Students may be appealed to the Vice President.
5. Bases for Appeal. Appeal reviews are not a "re-hearing" of a student organization conduct matter, rather a review of process and submitted information to ensure stated procedural standards were followed. Appeal considerations are limited to one or more of the following bases:
  - a. Process Review. That the proceeding was not conducted in accordance with established procedural standards. Such procedural errors must have substantially affected the outcome of the hearing.
  - b. Bias Review. That the proceedings were not conducted without bias or prejudice on the part of the hearing body. May include but is not limited to demonstration of a conflict of interest, or failure to objectively evaluate all relevant information.
  - c. Information Review. That the information presented in a proceeding does not support the finding of the hearing body that a violation of Code occurred.
  - d. Outcome Review. That the outcomes are extraordinarily disproportionate given the nature of the violations and any aggravating or mitigating circumstances presented.

- e. New Information. That new information exists that was not known to the individual or student organization appealing and could not reasonably have been known or discovered at the time of the original proceeding, and which would have substantially affected the outcome of the proceeding. This does not include statements from a complainant or responding student organization representative who did not appear for a proceeding or hearing.

6. Appeal Decision.

An appeal administrator reviewing an appeal request may make one of the following recommendations for final agency action:

- a. Affirm. The administrator may affirm the decision and/or outcomes of the original body.
- b. Alter outcome. The administrator may alter the outcome(s) issued by the original hearing body. Alteration in the outcome may include reducing or increasing severity of outcome(s) or requirements.
- c. New hearing. The administrator may determine a new hearing by a different hearing body is warranted to correct procedural irregularity or to consider new information. An individual or student organization may appeal any decision by a hearing body assigned to adjudicate a new hearing.
- d. Remand. The administrator may direct the original hearing body to review their original decision subject to any instructions from the appeal administrator, including the requirement of further clarification of the rationale supporting the decision. The hearing body may affirm its original decision or render a new decision consistent with those instructions. An individual or student organization may appeal a decision made on remand; however, if a hearing body affirms its original decision, an individual or student organization may not appeal the decision on the same grounds as in the previous appeal.

7. Final Agency Action

The appeal administrator will forward findings and recommendations to the Vice President for Student Affairs for review. The Vice President's review and decision is considered the final decision of the University and will be communicated in writing within fifteen business days to the responding Student Organization and if applicable, simultaneously to the complainant. This timeline may be extended if necessary, in consideration of the record on appeal. Final agency action decisions are only appealable by writ of certiorari to the Second Judicial Circuit in and for Leon County, Florida.

I. Record Keeping Practices

1. File Maintenance. Records of all Student Organization conduct cases will be maintained in the Student Conduct and Community Standards indefinitely.
2. Release of Records. The release of Student Organization conduct records will be governed by applicable federal and state laws regarding the privacy of education records. General information regarding the outcome of Student Organization conduct proceedings (without identifying information) may be released to the public.
3. Access to and Copies of Records. A student organization representative is permitted access and review of information in the conduct file for the purpose of reviewing information that is subject to consideration as part of a student organization conduct proceeding.
4. Transcriptions of hearings. Any student organization representative or a student desiring a transcript of a recorded hearing that is a part of their education record should Contact the Office of the General Counsel which will arrange for the preparation of the transcript by a court reporting service. The court reporting service will provide the transcript to the Office of the General Counsel, which will perform a confidentiality review of the transcript and redact any confidential or exempt information pursuant to state or federal law. The requester shall bear the cost of the transcript preparation and confidentiality review.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY
FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION
Office of the Vice President for Finance & Administration

MEMORANDUM

TO: Richard McCullough, President

FROM: Kyle Clark, Vice President for Finance & Administration

DATE: September 23, 2022

SUBJECT: Request for Approval
University's Radioactive Materials License #32-10

Florida State University has engaged in cutting edge research of low-level radioactive materials since the late 1950s, including work under a program managed by the United States Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) during the nascent days of our country's nuclear energy program created to pioneer useful applications for the life sciences.

In 1964, Florida became an agreement state and regulation of this work transferred from the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) to the Florida State Board of Health, predecessor to the Florida Department of Health (FDOH). Today the FDOH, Bureau of Radiation Control regulates users of radioactive materials like FSU and issues a radioactive materials license to each such user in compliance with regulations in Chapter 64E-5 of the Florida Administrative Code. FSU has maintained its Radioactive Materials License No. 32-10 since September 1964 (the "License"). The License allows FSU to use and store radioactive materials for the purposes of research, teaching and public service. This License must be renewed every 5 years and has an annual registration fee of  $\approx$  \$10,000.

As part of a regular administrative review of FSU's License, the FDOH has requested FSU provide a current decommission cost estimate (the cost of remediating any contamination, disposing of radioactive materials, and decommissioning any facilities that use or store radioactive material), as well as a statement of financial assurance that FSU has (or will have) appropriate funds available for the decommissioning costs. The current estimate of FSU's decommissioning costs is $6,075,000.00, which will fluctuate as materials are added or subtracted from the License (per NRC NUREG-1757, vol. 3, rev.1, Checklist 2).

Recommended Action: I recommend a delegation of authority from the Board of Trustees to the President to issue and sign the attached Statement of Intent in support of FSU's Radioactive Materials License #32-10. This delegation would be ongoing and would include the attached Statement of Intent as well as future Statements of Intent. A Statement of Intent shall (1) set out a cost estimate for decommissioning, (2) indicate that the University will request funds from the State of Florida for decommissioning activities sufficient to cover the decommissioning costs when appropriate, and (3) request funds sufficiently in advance of decommissioning to prevent delay.

RE: Florida State University - Radioactive Materials License #32-10 Financial Assurance

STATEMENT OF INTENT

The Florida State University Board of Trustees has the authority and responsibility to request from the State of Florida funds for decommissioning activities associated with operations authorized under Radioactive Materials License #32-10, issued by the State of Florida Department of Health, for the use of radioactive materials for the purposes of research, teaching and public service. This authority is derived by statute, and by statute the authority to implement the operating budget of the University as adopted by the Board of Trustees rests with University president.

Within this authority, the Florida State University Board of Trustees and the University president, or designee, intend to submit a budget request to the Florida Legislature for an appropriation of funds in an amount sufficient to cover the cost of decommissioning the University's radioactive materials and facilities in advance of any such decommissioning if and when it is ever needed.

The current estimated cost of decommissioning is $6,075,000. Florida State University further intends to seek and obtain such funds sufficiently in advance of decommissioning to prevent delay of required activities should that need ever arise.

Civil Discourse Final Report 2022

CIVIL DISCOURSE INITIATIVES

in the

STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM

INTRODUCTION

As members of many different societal groups and communities, people thrive on the personal interactions that occur every minute of every day. These ongoing interactions provide the foundation for learning, discovery, and growth in a university setting. More specifically, open-minded, tolerant, and respectful discourse among campus community members is critical to enabling students to learn and pursue their educational goals, faculty to effectively teach, and staff to pursue fulfilling work.

To promote civil discourse in the State University System, the Board of Governors, the presidents of Florida's twelve public universities, adopted a "Statement of Free Expression" in 2019. The Board's statement directly aligns with the well-established "Chicago Principles" that originated at the University of Chicago in 2014 to articulate the university's overarching commitment to free, robust, and uninhibited debate. Universities have widely adopted the Chicago Principles throughout the U.S.

The Board's Statement of Free Expression was endorsed by the twelve state universities as a vehicle to establish, maintain, and support a full and open discourse and the robust exchange of ideas and perspectives on all university campuses (See Appendix A). The statement reinforces that a critical purpose of a higher education institution is "to provide a learning environment where divergent ideas, opinions, and philosophies, new and old, can be rigorously debated and critically evaluated."

Board of Governors Chair Syd Kitson established the Board's Civil Discourse Initiative during his January 2021 "State of the System" address. Chair Kitson expressed concern regarding the steady decline in respectful discourse among those with differing viewpoints. He stated that the university setting could provide a foundation for understanding, learning, and growth in this area. Chair Kitson tasked Governor Tim Cerio to lead the initiative through the Strategic Planning Committee. Governor Cerio has stated that "Civil discourse, conducted civilly without fear of reprisal, is critical to free speech and ensuring academic and intellectual freedom – not just on our university campuses, but throughout our country."

The 2018 Legislature established the Campus Free Expression Act in section 1004.097, Florida Statutes. This statute provides direction and relevance to the Board's initiative as it codifies an individual's right to engage in free-speech activities at public higher education institutions. It also prohibits a public institution from shielding students, faculty, or staff from expressive activities while authorizing a public institution to create and enforce reasonable restrictions under specified conditions.

CIVIL DISCOURSE: BEST PRACTICES

The State University System

The state universities provided information on activities and initiatives promoting and supporting civil discourse in their campus communities. Best practices gleaned from a review of their submissions were highlighted within the following four categories.

1. Workshops & Professional Development: Presentations, lectures, workshops, or training designed to provide opportunities for faculty, staff, students, and campus partners to learn how to engage in and facilitate dialogue respectfully.
2. Speakers, Dialogue & Debate: Events or programs that provide opportunities for faculty, staff, and students to engage in, observe, or facilitate conversations and encourage civil discourse.
3. Outreach (on and off-campus): Programs, workshops, and or campaigns with external partners help cultivate a campus culture of civil discourse.
4. Research and Academic Affairs: Research-based initiatives, web tools, and courses designed to provide opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to engage in and learn about issues related to civil discourse in a formal setting.

Additionally, the committee researched established national programs addressing civil discourse and interviewed prominent authorities in this area. Interviews were conducted with Dr. Robert George, McCormick Professor of Jurisprudence & Director, James Madison Program at Princeton University; Dr. Lynn Pasquerella, President of the Association of American Colleges and Universities; Dr. Diana Hess, Dean, University of Wisconsin School of Education; Ms. Liz Joyner, Founder & C.E.O., the Village Square; Dr. Bill Mattox, Director, James Madison Institute's Marshall Center for Educational Options; Dr. Tim Chapin, Dean, FSU College of Social Sciences and Public Policy, and Dr. Jonathan Haidt, founder of the Heterodox Academy.

National Models

A review of the national postsecondary system and institutional civil discourse programs identified a number of highly regarded initiatives and strategies that promote and support civil discourse. Examples include the following.

- The Center for Peace and Conflict Resolution, Brigham Young University: The Center's primary focus is conflict resolution. Through mediation, arbitration, training workshops, research, conferences, academic courses, and consultations, the Center assists both the university and the community in building skills and promoting understanding of peace, negotiation, communication, and conflict resolution.
- Heterodox Academy: Heterodox Academy is a nonpartisan international collaborative of professors, administrators, and students committed to enhancing the quality of research and education by promoting open inquiry, viewpoint diversity, and constructive disagreement in institutions of higher learning. The Heterodox Academy was founded in 2015 by scholar Jonathan Haidt. He was prompted by his views on the negative impact that the lack of ideological diversity has had on the quality of research within the Academy.

The Academy collaboratively engages with universities throughout the U.S. to promote rigorous, open, and responsible interactions across lines of difference as essential to separating good ideas from bad and making good ideas better. Heterodox scholars view the university as a place of collaborative truth-seeking, where diverse scholars and students approach problems and questions from different points of view in pursuit of knowledge, discovery, and growth.

- The Institute for Civic Discourse and Democracy, Kansas State University: The Institute pursues theories and practice in civic discourse that are identified to advance improvements in all campus and community interactions. The Institute supports public conversation to elevate specific qualities of civic discourse, including inclusiveness, equality, reciprocity, reflection, reason-giving, and shared decision-making. The Institute offers certificates and degrees through the university's communication studies department; and offers workshops, facilitator training, and research opportunities through the Kansas Civic Life Project.
- The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions: The James Madison Program is a scholarly institute within the Department of Politics at Princeton University and is dedicated to exploring enduring questions of American constitutional law and Western political thought. The James Madison Program was founded in 2000 by Dr. Robert George, McCormick Professor of Jurisprudence at Princeton University, and follows the University of Chicago's principles on freedom of expression.

The James Madison Program promotes teaching and scholarship in constitutional law and political thought and provides a forum for free expression and robust civil dialogue and debate. The Program hosts visiting postdoctoral and undergraduate fellows and offers various activities, courses, summer programs, and other related activities promoting free expression.

RECOMMENDATIONS

All 12 universities in the State University System have voiced a commitment to civil discourse and have provided numerous examples of programs and policies to establish, maintain, and support civil discourse throughout their living, learning, and working environment.

In recent years, there have been incidents of unacceptable behaviors and violations of codes of conduct and personnel policies relating to civil discourse by administrators, faculty, and students in the system. When such incidents occur, universities must respond to grievances with rapid response, thorough review, and adjudication according to their established policies. This process is most valuable when the conflict is resolved, the impacted individuals are redressed, and all involved can learn and grow from the experience.

Moreover, programming restricting participation based on race or ethnicity, and in violation of existing university policies, has occurred with more frequency on Florida campuses. Although perhaps well-intentioned, often the effect of these programs is to further divide and disenfranchise, rather than promote understanding through civil discourse.

The Board of Governors as Advocate

The Board of Governors, responsible for the management and operation of the State University System, is unequivocal in its support of civil discourse throughout its 12 campus communities. The Board believes that each campus community member has a unique and critical role in the adherence to civil discourse and the ongoing support of the establishment, maintenance, and evaluation of civil discourse initiatives.

The Board of Governors' "Statement of Free Expression" remains an integral part of the Board's three-pronged mission for state universities: to deliver a high-quality academic experience for students, to engage in meaningful and productive research, and to provide a valuable public service for the benefit of local communities, metropolitan regions, and the state.

- I. The Board of Governors expects that the leadership at each university will operationalize the Board's commitment to open-minded and tolerant civil discourse by promoting, supporting, and regularly evaluating adherence to the principles set forth in the Board's Statement of Free Expression and cultivating a culture of civil discourse in all campus interactions, including academic, administrative, extracurricular, and social dealings.

University Planning

In its 2025 Strategic Plan, the Board of Governors sets forth its mission for the State University System and further states that the state universities will "support students' development of the knowledge, skills, and aptitudes needed for success in the global society and marketplace." The Board strongly believes that the state universities are well-positioned to provide the foundation for civil discourse learning, understanding, and growth for all campus community members.

Each university's Accountability Plan is an annual report of specific accountability measures and strategic plans.

- II. The Board of Governors recommends that each university's Accountability Plan and Strategic Plan include a specific endorsement of the Board's Statement of Free Expression, as well as a clear expectation for open-minded and tolerant civil discourse throughout the campus community. The Board of Governors will include similar statements and principles in its Strategic Plan for the State University System.

University Leadership

State university boards of trustees have the powers and duties necessary for each university's operation, management, and accountability. University civil discourse policies, programs, and initiatives should be viewed as strategic priorities by each board of trustees. The Board of Governors also believes that university faculty senates and student governments have a vital role and should participate early and often in the development, implementation, evaluation, and support of civil discourse programs and initiatives.

- III. The Board of Governors recommends that the leadership of each university board of trustees, faculty senate, and student government annually review and endorse the Board's Statement of Free Expression and commit to the principles of civil discourse.
- IV. The Board of Governors recommends that each board of trustees conducts a thorough review of current student orientation programs, student codes of conduct, and employee policies and procedures to ensure consistency with the Board of Governors Statement of Free Expression, the principles of free speech and civil discourse, and compliance with section 1004.097, Florida Statutes.

The University President

The university president has primary responsibility for establishing the campus culture and setting the day-to-day living, learning, and working environment for all university community members. The president directs and monitors these efforts and is ultimately accountable for the civil discourse climate in the campus community.

Board of Governors Regulation 1.001, University Board of Trustees Powers and Duties, states that the annual evaluation for university presidents addresses "responsiveness to the Board of Governors' strategic goals and priorities."

- V. Beginning in the 2022 presidential evaluation and contract renewal cycle, as a part of a president's evaluation, the Chair of the Board of Governors will consult with the board of trustees chair to review the university's campus free speech climate, including adherence to the principles set forth in the Board's Statement of Free Expression, the occurrence and the resolution of any issues related to the university's compliance with substantiated violations of section 1004.097, Florida Statutes, and the implementation of best practices promoting civil discourse.

Academic, Student, and Administrative Affairs

Board of Governors Regulation 1.001, University Boards of Trustees Powers & Duties, directs each board of trustees to adopt regulations or policies for a student code of conduct and establish a personnel program for all university employees. These policies are required to include standards for performance and conduct as well as disciplinary actions, complaints, appeals, and grievance procedures.

A university's personnel policies, orientation programs, and student code of conduct are critical to setting the tone for a climate of open-mindedness and tolerance for civil discourse. More specifically, all university campus areas, including classrooms, lecture halls, offices, and extracurricular, residential, and social locales, offer opportunities for learning, tolerance, and growth. Academic deans and directors, student affairs administrators, faculty, and students share responsibility for establishing and reinforcing tolerant, open-minded, and respectful discourse on a university campus.

- VI. The Board of Governors recommends that university academic, student affairs, and administrative leaders review student orientation programming, student codes of conduct, and employee personnel policies and procedures to ensure that they contain clear and unambiguous support for the Board's Statement of Free Expression, and the principles of free speech and civil discourse, and that they are in compliance with section 1004.097, Florida Statutes.

Best Practices for Civil Discourse

- VII. The Board of Governors recommends implementing the following best practices based on its review of university programs and initiatives that effectively promote and support civil discourse.

- Instill the importance of civil discourse, academic freedom, and free speech from day one, utilizing student and employee orientation sessions, public assemblies, and official university documents and communications.
- Schedule and host ongoing, campus-wide forums, dialogues, and debates on various issues and perspectives to promote open discussion, understanding, and learning opportunities.
- Foster intellectual diversity by encouraging university leadership to: (1) promote viewpoint diversity and open-minded discussion and debate, and (2) highlight and enforce policies that prohibit programming that excludes participation based on race or ethnicity.
- Avoid disinvitations by developing clear, viewpoint-neutral policies and procedures governing the invitation and accommodation of campus speakers.
- Provide targeted educational and professional development opportunities for university administrative employees to reinforce free expression and open-minded debate norms.
- Encourage faculty to establish and maintain a learning environment in their classrooms and offices that supports open dialogue and the free expression of all viewpoints and create processes to evaluate the strength of such environments.

State University System of Florida

Statement of Free Expression

April 15, 2019

The State University System of Florida and its twelve public postsecondary institutions adopt this Statement on Free Expression to support and encourage a full and open discourse and the robust exchange of ideas and perspectives on our respective campuses. The principles of freedom of speech and freedom of expression in the United States and Florida Constitutions, in addition to being legal rights, are an integral part of our three-part university mission to deliver a high-quality academic experience for our students, engage in meaningful and productive research, and provide valuable public service for the benefit of our local communities and the state. The purpose of this statement is to affirm our dedication to these principles and to seek our campus communities' commitment to maintaining our campuses as places where the open exchange of knowledge and ideas furthers our mission.

A fundamental purpose of an institution of higher education is to provide a learning environment where divergent ideas, opinions, and philosophies, new and old, can be rigorously debated and critically evaluated. Through this process, often referred to as the marketplace of ideas, individuals are free to express any ideas and opinions they wish, even if others may disagree with them or find those ideas and opinions to be offensive or otherwise antithetical to their own worldview. The very process of debating divergent ideas and challenging others' opinions develops the intellectual skills necessary to respectfully argue through civil discourse. Development of such skills leads to personal and scholarly growth and is an essential component of each of our institutions' academic and research missions.

It is equally important not to stifle the dissemination of any ideas, even if other members of our community may find those ideas abhorrent. Individuals wishing to express ideas with which others may disagree must be free to do so without fear of being bullied, threatened, or silenced. This does not mean that such ideas should go unchallenged, as that is part of the learning process. And though we believe all members of our campus communities have a role to play in promoting civility and mutual respect in that type of discourse, we must not let concerns over civility or respect be used as a reason to silence expression. We should empower and enable one another to speak and listen, rather than interfere with or silence the open expression of ideas.

Each member of our campus communities must also recognize that institutions may restrict unlawful expression, such as true threats or defamation. Because universities and colleges are first and foremost places where people go to engage in scholarly endeavors, it is necessary to the efficient and effective operations of each institution for there to be reasonable limitations on the time, place, and manner in which these rights are exercised. Each institution has adopted regulations that align with Florida's Campus

Free Expression Act, section 1004.097, Florida Statutes, and the United States and Florida Constitutions and the legal opinions interpreting those provisions. These limitations are narrowly drawn and content-neutral and serve to ensure that all members of our campus communities have an equal ability to express their ideas and opinions while preserving campus order and security.

The Board of Governors as Advocate – Recommendation I

The Board of Governors expects that the leadership at each university will operationalize the Board's commitment to open-minded and tolerant civil discourse by promoting, supporting, and regularly evaluating adherence to the principles set forth in the Board's Statement of Free Expression and cultivating a culture of civil discourse in all campus interactions, including academic, administrative, extracurricular, and social dealings.

Describe the operationalization of the Board's commitment to the Statement of Free Expression and cultivation of a culture of civil discourse under the appropriate category (in progress or implemented). If "in progress," please add the anticipated implementation date.

Operationalization of the Board's commitment to the Statement of Free Expression and cultivating a culture of civil discourse

In Progress	Implemented
	FSU has operationalized a commitment to free expression and a culture of civil discourse. During President Stanley Marshall's presidency (1969-1976), while enforcing University policies, he also protected students' and faculty members' rights to free speech and assembly, and today a statue honoring President Marshall's free expression legacy resides on the campus. That legacy continues at FSU. The University's Seminole Creed specifically adopts the norm of Freedom of Speech and Inquiry, which states, "I will support academic freedom, including the right of dissent and freedom of speech." Recently, FSU was recognized by the Foundation for Individual Rights and Expression (FIRE) with a "green light" (i.e., FSU's policies are free speech friendly) and FSU ranks #15 in FIRE's 2022 College Free Speech Rankings. In recent years, FSU has revised policies, regulations and other items to encourage free speech and civil discourse. These efforts include, but are not limited to the following: the Student Conduct Code was tailored to exclude constitutionally-protected free speech as conduct, particularly narrowing the definitions of harassment and bullying behaviors; security and email policies were revised to remove "irrelevant" or "inappropriate" email solicitation from the definition of spam; FSU's posting/chalking regulation was revised to narrow the definition of "harm" to only include "physical harm;" the Undergraduate Bulletin was revised to include language around the need for civility and respect in the clash of ideas; the University's Equal Opportunity &amp; Non-Discrimination Statement was revised to remove language prohibiting behavior that is considered offensive, demeaning or degrading; and the discrimination report option on FSU's on-line reporting tool (at https://report.fsu.edu) was tailored to exclude free speech and focus solely on "true threats." In 2018, FSU was perceived as having Free Speech Zones; while that perception was inaccurate, FSU clarified policies and regulations to make clear that the entire campus is open for free speech. In Summer 2022, student orientation was revised to include training for orientation leaders on civil discourse and included a small group session with orientation leaders and all new students on civil discourse in each orientation session. The on-line pre-orientation session also includes a freedom of expression module. Further, the current version of the Student Conduct Code (approved by the FSU Board of Trustees on September 23, 2022) explicitly cites support for the Statement of Free Expression. The efforts are ongoing as policies, regulations and other materials continue to be reviewed, updated and revised. Finally, to demonstrate the University's commitment, the University's Board of Trustees, its President and his Cabinet (consisting of the Provost and Vice Presidents) have explicitly endorsed the State University System of Florida Statement of Free Expression.

University Planning – Recommendation II

*The Board of Governors recommends that each university's Accountability Plan and Strategic Plan include a specific endorsement of the Board's Statement of Free Expression, as well as a clear expectation for open-minded and tolerant civil discourse throughout the campus community. Best Practices for Civil Discourse – Recommendation VII

The Board of Governors recommends implementing the following best practices based on its review of university programs and initiatives that effectively promote and support civil discourse.

Describe the best practices the university has implemented or is in the process of implementing. If "in progress," please add the anticipated implementation date.

In Progress

Implemented

1. Instill the importance of civil discourse, academic freedom, and free speech from day one, utilizing student and employee orientation sessions, public assemblies, and official university documents and communications.

In addition to the actions already implemented, additional measures are in the process of being implemented. These include: (1) the implementation of a Civil Discourse statement in New Employee Orientation materials (for all FSU employees) and (2) the addition of a statement in support of the Board’s Statement of Free Expression to the FSU & You Employee Handbook.

FSU instills the importance of civil discourse, academic freedom and free speech from day one with students and employees. The online pre-orientation for students includes a module on freedom of expression. Student orientation was recently updated to include training for orientation leaders on civil discourse and a small group session with orientation leaders and all new students on civil discourse in each orientation session. The University’s orientation for new faculty also includes reading materials on academic freedom and civil discourse issues. A module on academic freedom, free speech, and civil discourse was added to this year’s faculty orientation. The FSU Constitution and the Faculty Handbook both contain robust sections on academic freedom. As noted in detail in the response to Recommendation 1, FSU policies, regulations and other items have been updated in recent years to reflect the University’s commitment to these important principles. Efforts to continually review and update are also ongoing to ensure continued compliance.

Anticipated completion date is 01/31/23

2. Schedule and host ongoing, campus-wide forums, dialogues, and debates on various issues and perspectives to promote open discussion, understanding, and learning opportunities.

The University, including its institutes and centers, engage in a variety of efforts to stimulate dialogue and debate on various issues and perspectives to promote open discussion, understanding and learning opportunities on campus. In recent years, such activities have included posting commentary on national happenings, planning an annual speaker series that hosts various speakers to encourage robust discourse on campus, arranging panels of nationally recognized individuals to discuss hot topics, a video series with Republican and Democratic lawmakers, a four-part virtual event series in 2021 celebrating civility, and a podcast moderated by a former Republican Party of Florida Chair and FSU adjunct faculty member. The University plans to continue all of these types of efforts and to look for opportunities to enhance campus engagement in civil discourse. In addition, FSU’s various student organizations host speakers and forums on a variety of issues and perspectives each academic year (as explained further in #4 below). These events are also expected to continue.

3. Foster intellectual diversity by encouraging university leadership to: (1) promote viewpoint diversity and open-minded discussion and debate, and (2) highlight and enforce policies that prohibit programming that excludes participation based on race or ethnicity.

4. Avoid disinvitations by developing clear, viewpoint-neutral policies and procedures governing the invitation and accommodation of campus speakers.

5. Provide targeted educational and professional development opportunities for university administrative employees to reinforce free expression and open-minded debate norms.

FSU leadership is in the process of researching such development opportunities for its administrative employees.

Anticipated implementation date is 01/31/23

FSU leadership promotes viewpoint diversity and open-minded discussion and debate on campus. See responses to #4 and #6 for more details. Further, in support of viewpoint diversity and open-minded discussion and debate, the University's Board of Trustees, its President and his Cabinet have explicitly endorsed the State University System of Florida Statement of Free Expression. The University also highlights and enforces policies that prohibit programming that excludes participation based on race or ethnicity. The University's Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Statement, which is signed by the President and prominently displayed on FSU websites and posted throughout campus, explicitly prohibits exclusion of individuals on the basis of any protected category, including race and ethnicity. It indicates that all members of the FSU community are to be provided with equitable opportunities to participate and succeed. FSU's personnel policies and Student Conduct Code, which also prohibit discrimination on the basis of race and ethnicity, are diligently enforced. Further, in recent years, FSU voluntarily engaged in a comprehensive review of the scholarship offerings through the FSU Foundation and removed any requirements based on race, ethnicity and/or gender, making them merely preferences instead. Now, all students can apply for and receive all FSU Foundation scholarships (and, records indicate, have done so).

FSU has a long history of hosting a diverse array of on-campus speakers with various viewpoints and is unaware of a disinvitation of such a speaker. For example, in recent years, FSU hosted controversial speakers Ben Shapiro, Angela Davis and Milo Yiannopoulos, with all of the events proceeding with an opportunity for dissenting opinions to have a presence at the forum. In addition, University Regulation FSU-2.007 explicitly states that the use of University space shall be done in a manner consistent with the First Amendment and the Campus Free Expression Act and that nothing in the regulation shall be used to prohibit free expression based on viewpoint.

The University is researching ways to strengthen and enhance existing evaluation processes.

6. Encourage faculty to establish and maintain a learning environment in their classrooms and offices that supports open dialogue and the free expression of all viewpoints and create processes to evaluate the strength of such environments.

Anticipated implementation date is 01/31/23

The University encourages its faculty to establish and maintain a learning environment that supports open dialogue and free expression. As reflected in the 2021-22 Faculty Handbook, faculty members "must be free to cultivate a spirit of inquiry and scholarly criticism and examine ideas in an atmosphere of freedom and confidence." Students "must likewise have the opportunity to study a full spectrum of ideas, opinions, and beliefs." As such the "[o]bjective and skillful exposition of such subject matters is the duty of every instructor, and the university does not serve to shield individuals from experiences of ideas and opinions that differ from their own." The FSU Office of Faculty Development and Advancement works to support faculty in establishing and maintaining the appropriate learning environment in their classrooms and offices, and provides guidance, correction and intervention, as needed. In addition, FSU's on-line reporting tool is available for any faculty member or student to report an alleged deficiency or issue. Students can also report any problems or concerns to a faculty member's chair or dean or via the anonymous online reporting system.

ACTION ITEM 3

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY
OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

TO: President Richard McCullough

FROM: Provost James Clark

DATE: August 18, 2022

SUBJECT: FSU-6.015 Prohibition of Discrimination in University Training or Instruction

Request for Approval

The proposed regulation will implement recent amendments to section 1000.05(4), Florida Statutes, as further codified in proposed Board of Governors Regulation 10.005. The statute amendment and proposed BOG Regulation expand the existing definition of discrimination based on race, color, national origin or sex. These expanded definitions of discrimination now include the university promotion of certain defined and listed concepts in any mandatory training or instruction. This proposed FSU regulation provides a framework for addressing reports arising from alleged university violations of these instructional and training prohibitions. As provided in amendments to section 1001.92, Florida Statutes and the BOG Regulation 10.005, failure to adequately address violations may render a university ineligible for performance-based funding in the event the BOG determines that a university has committed a substantial, uncorrected violation of the new provision.

Very simply, for FSU, any reports would be submitted to defined administrators who would forward it to the FSU Chief Compliance and Ethics Officer for review. If found to be substantiated, corrective action will be taken. This will be reported to the BOG which may review the action for willful failure to correct a substantial violation.

SUBJECT: Request for Approval
Report on Florida State University Employee Bonus Plan

Section 1012.978, F.S. authorizes a university Board of Trustees to develop and maintain an employee bonus plan for work performance or employee recruitment and retention.

Board of Governors Regulation 9.015, University Bonus Plans delegates the oversight of the individual institution's bonus plan to the Board of Trustees. The Regulation requires an annual report be submitted to the Board of Trustees, certifying that bonuses paid during the reporting period complied with the criteria in the university bonus plan and were paid from funds contained within the university's budget as approved by the Board of Trustees.

University Policy 4-OP-C-7-D7, Employee Bonus Plan, authorizes university departments to provide a salaried employee with a one-time monetary award (bonus) as an incentive to recruit and retain key talent or to reward employee work performance.

In accordance with Section 1012.978, F.S., BOG Regulation 9.015, and University Policy 4-OP-C-7-D7, I am providing a report of all employee bonus types for work performance or employee recruitment and retention paid to Faculty and Staff during the initial reporting period November 4, 2021 through June 30, 2022 for your approval.

I recommend approval of the Florida State University Employee Bonus Plan Report and certify that bonuses paid within the reporting period, November 4, 2021 through June 30, 2022, comply with criteria outlined in the University Policy 4-OP-C-7-D7.

9.015 University Bonus Plans

(1) Pursuant to section 1012.978, Florida Statutes, each board of trustees may establish and implement one or more plans that authorize the award of bonuses based on employee work performance or for purposes of recruitment and retention.

- (a) Each university plan must set forth the categories of employees who are eligible to receive bonuses and the evaluation criteria by which bonuses may be awarded. Evaluation criteria for plans based on employee work performance may include, but are not limited to, documented work performance involving increased duties/responsibilities, successful completion of a special project, attainment of established goals, superior performance, or specific achievements or assignments of significance. For plans developed for recruitment, evaluation criteria may include, but are not limited to, candidates with desirable specialized skills and exceptional experience, or where market conditions or departmental structure merit such a recruitment award. For plans developed for purposes of addressing retention, evaluation criteria may include, but are not limited to, circumstances to address verified offers of competing employment, to address market conditions which are significantly higher than the current salary, to ameliorate salary compression or inversion, or to acknowledge successful completion of career development, training, or certification programs that are in the best interests of the university or support the mission of the university.
- (b) Each university may authorize the inclusion of provisions that award bonuses in collective-bargaining agreements that are duly ratified by the board of trustees. Any bonus provisions in such agreements must be based upon standards appropriate to institutions of higher education or relevant industry standards.

(2) Any university bonus plan that is consistent with the provisions set forth herein may be implemented upon approval by the university board of trustees. Any plan approved by a university board of trustees that deviates from this authority shall not be implemented until submitted to and approved by the Board of Governors. This regulation applies to bonus plans created under section 1012.978, Florida Statutes.

(3) Comprehensive incentive-based compensation programs implemented for services related to the delivery of clinical care through a university Faculty Practice Plan approved by the Board of Governors and operating in accordance with Regulation 9.017 or another health-care related program are authorized upon approval by the university board of trustees.

(4) Each year, on a schedule established by the university board of trustees, the President shall submit a report to the board of trustees. The report shall contain the following: the President's certification that any bonuses paid during the reporting period complied with the criteria in the university's bonus plan and were paid from funds contained within the university's budget as approved by the board of trustees; and the total amount paid during the reporting period for performance, recruitment and retention bonuses.

I. INTRODUCTION

- This policy provides guidance on awarding individual bonus or incentive payments to recruit and retain employees and to reward superior work performance.
- Eligible categories of employees include Faculty, Executive Service (AEX), Administrative and Professional (A&P), and University Support Personnel System (USPS). Employees must be active and in good standing with the University at the time a bonus payment is made.

II. POLICY

- Departments may provide a salaried employee a one-time monetary award (bonus) as an incentive to recruit and retain key talent or to reward employee work performance.

A. Recruitment

Offered to prospective employees who possess skills, experience, and/or qualifications that are in high market demand or are highly specialized. May also be used to recruit for a position that would otherwise be difficult to fill. The amount of the recruitment bonus may not exceed 15% of the employee's base salary. A recruitment bonus request that exceeds the 15% threshold may be awarded only after approval by the President or designee. See also Policy 4-OP-C7-B12 Recruiting Incentives.

B. Retention

Offered to a current employee possessing valuable or unique knowledge, skills, or abilities that are deemed critical to the mission of the University in order to retain key talent. May be used to acknowledge successful completion of career development, professional training, or certification programs that are beneficial to the University and the employee. The amount of the retention incentive is dependent on the nature and complexity of the role, as well as the availability of funds. The amount of this incentive may not exceed 15% of the employee's base salary. A retention bonus request that exceeds the 15% threshold may be awarded only after approval by the President or designee.

C. Work Performance

Recognizes and rewards employees for exceptional performance and contributions over a specified period of time. Frequently awarded for the completion of a special project or assignment going beyond an employee's regularly assigned duties. These may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Contributions that substantially advance the initiatives of the department, division, college, or University and are typically project-based.
- Extraordinary efforts during times of critical need, such as achieving vital objectives or deliverables that could have negatively impacted operations or major projects.
- Innovative work ideas that significantly improve operational efficiencies, workflow, or customer service and may include the introduction or modification of business practices.

D. Incentive Program

A department-specific program based on an approved plan with clearly defined objectives. These programs are used to recognize and reward employees for significant performance and contribution following a specified time-period based on pre-established goals. The incentive program must define eligible employees and be provided to FSU Human Resources in advance, with final approval for any such payments by the Chief Human Resources Officer. Faculty Practice Plans must operate in accordance with State University System of Florida Board of Governors Regulation 9.017 and are authorized upon approval by the Board of Trustees.

E. Procedures

When an employee's supervisor determines that a bonus may be warranted, an Additional Pay Form containing justification/documentation appropriate for the requested bonus type should be prepared and submitted. All bonus and incentive payments are subject to approval of the Chief Human Resources Officer or designee. The effective date of the increase will be the beginning of the pay period following the completion of the process. Requests to establish a new college or administrative unit incentive plan should be submitted to Compensation at HR-Compensation@fsu.edu.
